GREAT ADVANCE MADE BY BRITISH DRIVE

AMERICAN EXPORTS FOR THE NEUTRALS BARRED BY BRITAIN

In Consequence of Order Shipments From This Country Destined for Holland Will Be Stopped Absolutely.

WASHINGTON EXPECTED TO MAKE INQUIRY SOON

Transportation Companies Trading Between United States and Scandinavia Are Not Expected to Take Cargoes.

London, September 14.—(Thursday, Delayed.)—The plan of rationing the neutral countries of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland under which no further licenses will be granted for the present to British exporters, has been extended to apply to the United States by the expedients of refusing to allow the Netherlands Overseas Trust to accept further American consignments, and by declining to grant letters of assurance for American shipments destined for these countries.

In consequence American shipments for Holland will be stopped absolutely, while the regular transportation companies trading between the United States and Scandinavia will not take cargoes without assurances of their innocent destination by the authorities. Furthermore, tramp steamers are hardly likely to risk the inevitable landing in the prize court of any cargo they might accept.

Neutral diplomats here believe two reasons induced the British government to take this action. The first is the simplicity of the plan, which enables the government to control supplies at the source. The second is the growing bill with which Great Britain is being pressed by neutral governments for demurrage and other expenses incurred by taking suspected ships into Kirkwall and other ports for examination.

Adjustment of Claims.

So far as is known, no machinery exists at present for adjusting these claims, as many of these cargoes never actually reach the prize court. When shippers ask for compensation they are referred to the prize court, which thus far has declined to consider their claims on the ground that they have no standing in court.

It is expected that Washington will make an inquiry in regard to this matter, especially as to the American schooners which were taken into Lerwick and released after being detained for several weeks. No charges were preferred against them.

Another blockade measure which also probably will interest Washington is the recent arrangement under which bureaus were set up in England and France for granting licenses for exchange of goods which figure on the list of prohibited imports. The American authorities contend that under the British-American commercial treaty of 1815 such prohibitions must be enforced against all countries equally. Consequently any privileges granted to France and not extended to the United States are held to be in violation of that treaty.

Already Received Too Much.

London, September 15.—Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, today explained the recent orders of the British government refusing to allow Holland to accept further consignments of American goods and refusing letters of assurance that American shipments would reach Scandinavia. He said the orders applied only to certain prohibited articles and not to trade in general.

Great Britain has forbidden the export of various articles to European neutrals on the ground that they have already received in the first seven months of this year more than an ordinary year's supply. Lord Robert said it was not logical to forbid such exports from Great Britain and to permit them from America and other neutral sources.

Lord Robert explained that one neutral nation, taking normally 18,000 tons of coffee, in seven months of this year already has imported 50,000 tons, so all further imports of coffee to that country are looked upon as likely to reach an enemy destination. The list of pro-

When Is Stable A Chicken House? Recorder Answers

Police Recorder Solves the Knotty Problem and Sends Quarreling Neighbors Away at Peace With the World.

The uncertain character of a certain outbuilding on the premises of No. 351 Woodward avenue was the occasion of a lively dispute in recorder's court Friday between Mrs. Harry Cohen, the owner of the property, and A. Fleshner, tenant.

Fleshner, who likes an occasional chicken and raises quite a few, claims that his lease entitles him to the "convenience" of the building for this purpose. M. Siegel, a more recent tenant of the other half of the apartment, is fond of horse flesh, and one morning, not long since, Mr. Fleshner was much taken aback to find an animal of that species inhabiting his chicken house. He promptly evicted the interloper and resisted attempts to reinstate the horse.

Mrs. Cohen, being called in, sided with the new tenant, denying the chicken champion's contention as to a blanket lease, and claiming that the building was intended for a stable, anyway. As neither party could produce a copy of the document in question, Judge Johnson effected a compromise by which the cherished fowls were to have a separate home built for them, and everybody went away happy.

Eighteen Months Old Youngster in Atlanta Gives $1 to Wilson Fund

Atlanta Can Boast of Youngest Contributor to Fund to Re-elect Wilson and Marshall — Billy Sends Donation Through His Grandfather.

Perhaps the youngest contributor in America to the Woodrow Wilson campaign fund is an 18-months-old youngster, the grandson of Walker Dunson, opposite whose name is listed "$1."

While he can't vote yet, evidently he intends to let the wide world and Woodrow Wilson know that he nevertheless can help the good cause along, and he takes this means of expressing his gratitude for having been permitted to enter the realm of human being under the administration of "our best, wisest and greatest president."

The donation was made through his grandfather, who sent a check for $8 to The Constitution for the Woodrow Wilson fund. The check was forwarded to John D. Walker, treasurer of the state democratic finance committee. All similar contributions will be sent to Mr. Walker.

Accompanying Mr. Dunson's check was the following letter:

Editor Constitution: In the last campaign for the election of President Wilson I contributed, with much pleasure, $7.00, which was $1.00 for each member of our family.

With even more pleasure, I now enclose check for $8.00, which includes $1.00 for my 18-months-old grandson, Billy, to the expense of the re-election of our best, wisest, greatest president, Woodrow Wilson.

INDIANA IS GOING FOR WOODROW WILSON

Chicago, September 15.—Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee, visited western democratic campaign headquarters today and conferred with Manager Thomas J. Walsh, discussing campaign plans and President Wilson's speaking dates in the west.

Chairman McCormick expressed the opinion that President Wilson will carry Indiana. He said encouraging reports had been received from Ohio, where it is said many progressives and republicans have announced their intention of voting for Wilson.

GEORGIA ONION RATE FOUGHT BY HOPKINS

Washington, September 15.—Richard Hopkins, of New York, owning a plantation near Savannah, complained to the interstate commerce commission today that a 20-cent rate per crate of 54 pounds for shipping onions from Savannah to New York city is unjust, unreasonable and unlawful. He said that 19 cents per hundred weight is ample.

DECISION IS NEAR ON GREAT STRIKE

Machinists' Vote Shows About 75 Per Cent in Favor of Sympathetic Strike in New York.

New York, September 15.—Eighty thousand workers in crafts closely affiliated with the operation of New York's traction lines are expected to go on strike by Monday, it was announced at the close of a meeting of a Central Federated union here late tonight. Representatives of 400,000 unionized employees were at the meeting, it was said, and passed a resolution calling on each trade to ascertain the sentiment of members regarding a general strike in sympathy with the car men here who quit their places September 6.

A referendum has been in progress among many of the crafts for several days, and if the sympathetic strike is authorized, union leaders predict, it will be the most effective blow that could be dealt in the carmen's strike that has been in progress since September 6 on the elevated, subway and surface transportation lines of the city.

The trades in which the referendum has been in progress, it is said, include longshoremen, teamsters, power house employees, stationary engineers and firemen, and machinists. Figures were available tonight only from the machinists, and it was said their vote showed about 70 per cent in favor of a sympathetic strike.

Blow at Morgan Interests.

Union leaders attach much importance to the action of the machinists, most of whom are employed in plants manufacturing munitions of war for the entente allies, and say a strike in that trade would be a direct blow at the Morgan interests, the largest holders of stock in the Interborough Rapid Transit company—J. P. Morgan & Co. are the fiscal agents of the British government in this country.

Several persons were injured, none seriously, in two traction accidents tonight. A rear-end collision between two trains on the Third avenue elevated line near the Fifty-ninth street station injured many passengers.

Two trolley cars were in collision in the Bronx and four persons, one a patrolman on strike duty, were hurt. It is said the cars were operated by strikebreakers.

Car Service Improved.

Although surface car service was much improved over previous days, subway and elevated trains were more crowded today than at any time since the strike was called.

The public service commission brought its inquiry into the strike to a close today. The statement issued with regard to the situation on the Third Avenue Railroad company's lines said there was no evidence of bad faith on the part of the company or any indication that it was the company's intention to violate the agreement of August 7, which ended the former surface car strike.

The commission added that it did find evidence of suspicion on the part of the men to violate the agreement.

"The strike should be called off at once and the agreement of August 7 should be lived up to in letter and spirit," the statement concluded.

PATTERSON TO PROTEST NOMINATION OF MORRIS

Claims Opponent Was Elected by Republican Votes in Fannin County.

Marietta, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—Just as the voters of the Blue Ridge circuit were about to forget politics for a while, they were startled today by the report that the friends of Judge H. L. Patterson, the present incumbent, who was defeated last Tuesday, will protest the election on the fact that republicans in Fannin county, which went for Judge Morris, were allowed to vote in the democratic primary. This county gave Judge Morris a majority of 534, and as Judge Morris' majority in the entire circuit was only 393 votes, if this county is thrown out by the convention, Judge Patterson will have a majority of 121 votes.

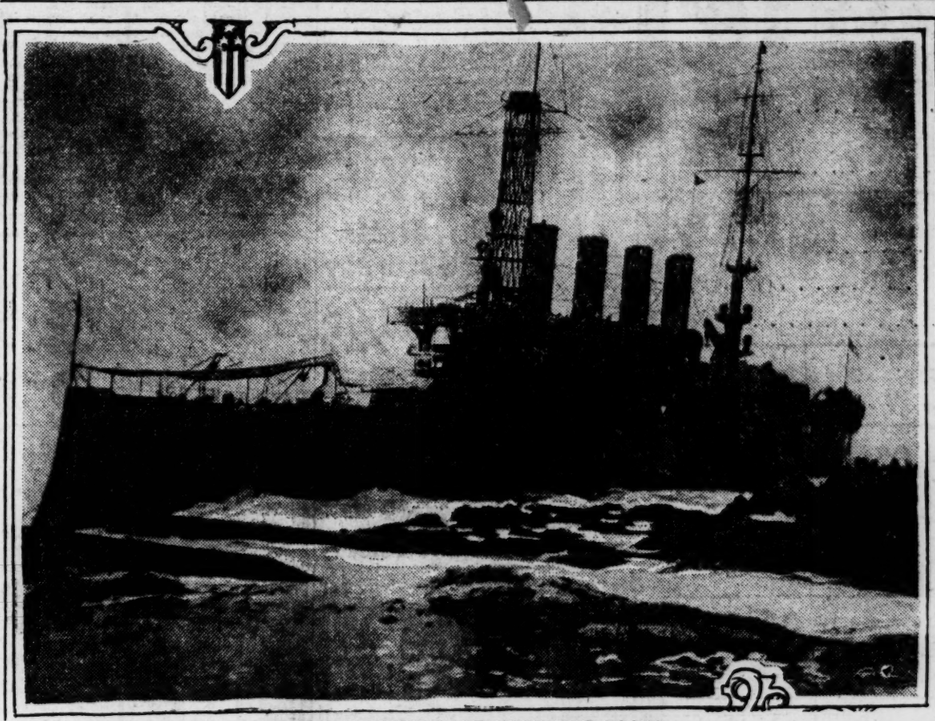

Friends of Judge Morris claim that a few days before the election the chairman of the republican county committee in Fannin called a meeting and at that meeting it was decided that they would refrain from taking any part in the state primary, in order that they might vote in the general election later.

In view of the fact that twice before, once when he opposed Judge George F. Gober, and last election, when he opposed Judge Patterson, the present incumbent, Judge Morris secured the largest popular vote, only to have the convention throw out one of his counties and elect the other man. More than the usual amount of interest will be paid the fight. It is understood that Judge Morris will make a strenuous effort to retain his delegates from Fannin county.

ORDER OF MERIT GIVEN TO GENERAL DEIMLING

London, September 15.—An Amsterdam dispatch quotes The Deutsche Tages Zeitung of Berlin as stating that an army order has been issued announcing that the order of Pour Le Merite has been conferred upon General Berhold Von Deimling, commander of the Fifteenth German army corps. The order also announced that General Erich von Falkenhayn, former chief of the general staff, has received the cross and star of a commander of the Royal House, Order of Hohenzellern, with swords. Another Berlin message states that General Fretag Keringhofen, hitherto quartermaster general, has bee appointed deputy chief of the general staff.

How Cruiser Memphis Looked When Cast Ashore

U. S. S. MEMPHIS CAST UPON THE ROCKS

This graphic picture shows the ill-fated American warship Memphis, formerly known as the Tennessee, high and fast on the honeycomb coral rocks off Santo Domingo city. It was taken on August 29, a few minutes after she struck, broadside on, only fifty yards from shore. At 4:30 p. m. she had been torn from her anchorage two miles out and started on her tragic shoreward journey by a sudden and amazing upheaval of the water unaccompanied by strong wind. With each heave of the waves this 20,000-ton armored cruiser was lifted thirty feet and driven helplessly toward the reef. "At 4:30 a cry of alarm was raised over the situation of the Memphis," says an account of the disaster. "Lifted time after time by immense waves, the cruiser was seen to be dragging her powerful anchors toward the shore. The great 20,000-ton warship would rear up thirty feet on the crests of the giant combers, each time heaving closer to the coral ledges, where they broke into foam. Soon we could make out the individuals on her deck as they busied themselves to avert disaster. The entire population of the city now lined the shore, watching the progress of this drama, so deliberate and so inevitable. The climax came at 5:10 p. m. A wave that seemed larger than any that had preceded it heaved and held the cruiser on its summit for a moment, then dashed it down with a perceptible jar on a submerged reef within 200 yards of the dry land." Thirty men were drowned when the Memphis was wrecked.

Greece Ready to Join Allies When It Is to Her Advantage To Do So, Declares Her King

New York, September 15.—On September 1 the staff correspodent of the Associated Press obtained an interview with King Constantine of Greece. It is impossible to say which of the censorships through which it passed held the dispatch at the time. Various reports concerning the attitude of Greece and King Constantine were afloat in the first days of the present month, but even London received no official dispatches for several days. The interview was given about the time the entente allied fleet was taking position at Piraeus, the port of Athens, and revolutionary outbreaks were reported taking place in Macedonia. The interview follows:

Tatoi, Greece, September 1.—(Via Paris, September 15.)—King Constantine received the correspondent of the Associated Press in his summer palace here just previous to a visit from the British minister at Athens. The king spoke of the present situation with the utmost frankness, although refusing to be directly quoted. He said that Greece is ready to join the entente allies whenever she could see her definite and certain advantage in so doing.

The king expressed indignation that it could be thought by any one, much less published, that he is bound by any pledge to anyone not to make war or that he has been moved in his course hitherto by any reasons save those he conceived to be for the greatest good of his country.

Advantages Not Revealed.

He declared that the situation up to the Bulgarian invasion of Greek Macedonia and Rumania's entry into the war had not revealed with sufficient certainty the advantage to be gained by Greece to compensate for the risks and unquestionable cost in lives and property bound to follow Greek participation in the war.

King Constantine referred with particular feeling to the fate almost certain to overtake more than a million Greeks living in Asia Minor and Thrace in the event of Greece finding herself engaged in hostilities with Turkey, and he pointed out that while those who judged Greece and himself harshly for what is regarded as inaction, they gave no thought to the prospect of condemning to the lot of the Armenians, Greek women and children caught in the toils of the Turks.

Quite frankly, the king admitted that the presence of Bulgarians in Macedonia and Rumania's entry into the war would greatly complicate the situation, constituting a new element which might easily alter the premises upon which the policy of Greece hitherto has been based. The king declared that all these new elements had to be duly considered and weighed before Greece would be justified in changing her position, but he added that they now were being thought over and the course of Greece would depend on the result of that consideration and on nothing else.

Not Moment to Talk.

With profound earnestness King Constantine stated it was not the moment to talk of his deciding the fate of Greece, nor of any political party in Greece, indicating the action the country must take, but, as he put it, "the hour will come when we want the voice of the soul of Hellas to dictate the future of our race."

The king received the correspondent while lying on a sofa in a darkened room. Physicians and nurses are still in attendance upon him on account of the fever and continual irritation of the wound which keeps the king confined to his room and in a state of constant physical annoyance, when not in actual pain.

Notwithstanding his mental anguish the Greek sovereign apparently is trying to see clearly the way leading to the salvation of his country under circumstances which are altering hourly.

His Key Lost, Grocer Stands Guard in Store With Loaded Revolver

Because he lost the key to his store and couldn't lock the door, Joseph H. Orr, a grocer at Glennwood avenue and Waldo streets, told Assistant Chief Jett that he was going to keep awake inside the store and that the first man who rattle the door would be shot.

"Why don't you pay for an officer?" said the chief.

"How much will it cost?"

"Three dollars."

"No, I'm willing to pay $1.50, but not that much. So tell your officers not to try the door, because I'm going to kill the first man that rattles that door tonight."

Mr. Orr's brief message was read to the members of the morning watch, which goes on at midnight. It was telephoned to the patrolman on the beat during the early evening, and the Orr store was shunned during the entire night.

Mr. Orr said that he was going to get more than one key for his door when the new lock is put on today.

Congress Passengers In the Best of Health After Race With Death

Marshfield, Ore., September 15.—All of the passengers of the burned steamer Congress left here late today on a special train for Seattle, in the best of health and spirits.

Two miles off Coos bay the blackened hulk of the Congress lay with smoke still coming out of her, having won her race with death last evening and, brought her passengers and crew to safety.

"We owe a debt of gratitude to the United States government for the remarkably fine service rendered by the bar dredge, Colonel H. S. Michie," said Captain Cousins. "It was a great stroke of good fortune that the dredge was at the bar when we were forced to drop anchor. We were not able to proceed a bit farther, every member of the crew being driven from below by the fire and smoke.

"We discovered the fire in No. 3 hold about 3 p. m. yesterday. The fire did not originate in the steerage, as had been previously reported."

A gang of bay pirates spirited away eleven life boats brought from the Congress by the gas schooner Tillamook. When discovered and pursued the pirates drew guns and held their pursuers at bay while they covered their retreat.

GERMANS FORCED TO YIELD GROUND ON 6-MILE FRONT NORTH OF SOMME

Three Towns, Two Woods, and Possession of Nearly All of the High Ground Between Combles and the Pozieres-Bapaume Road Falls to English.

SUCCESS OF ATTACKERS IMPERILS THE THIEPVAL AND COMBLES POSITIONS

Advance on Northern End of Front Was for Distance of Two Miles—More Than 2,300 Prisoners Taken, Germans, Under Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, Fight Stubbornly.

Smashing the German line on a front of 6 miles north of the Somme, in France, the British forces have made probably the most notable advance since the Anglo-French offensive began July 1.

Three towns, two woods and the possession of nearly all the high ground between Combles and the Pozieres-Bapaume road fell to the British. Not only did the Germans lose these points, but the British drive imperils the Combles and Thiepval positions, at either end of the British front. The gaining of the high ground north of Combles gives the British command of the approaches to Bapaume.

The advance on the northern end of the front was for a distance of 2 miles. Courcelette, east of Thiepval, and north of the Pozieres-Bapaume road, and Martinpuich, south of the road, fell into the hands of General Haig's men. Farther south they took Flers and the High wood, making secure their possession of Ginchy. The Bouleaux wood, north of Combles, also was lost to the Germans.

The Germans under Crown Prince Rupprechet of Bavaria fought stubbornly to hold their ground, London says, and the fighting was severe all along the line. More than 2,300 prisoners were taken by the British.

Aiding the British in the encirclement of Combles, the French have taken additional trenches north of Le Priez farm. South of the river three German trenches near Berry-En-Santerre were taken by the French, who also captured 200 prisoners. Berlin claims the repulse of British attacks southeast of Thiepval and of French efforts between Rancourt and the Somme. The official statement admits the loss of Le Priez farm, west of Rancourt.

ADDITIONAL SUCCESSES.

In northern Macedonia the British, French and Serbian armies have gained additional success, breaking down the Bulgarian positions a half mile deep on a front of one mile. West of Lake Ostrovo the Serbians captured Malkanidze. The British attacked west of the Vardan and also gained ground.

Unofficially, it is reported the Bulgarians retreated 12 miles in front of the entente rush, and Athens reports the abandonment of Kastoria by the Bulgarians. Berlin says entente at-

OFFICIAL FIGURES ON APPEALS COURT RACE

With Four Counties Missing, Bloodworth Has 176, Stephens 160, George 155 Votes.

With the report of St. Elmo Massengale, secretary of the state democratic executive committee, whose duty it is to consolidate the election returns throughout the state and report the same to the Macon convention, the prediction made by The Constitution on the morning following the primary was borne out, and it was definitely settled that none of the candidates for the three new court of appeals judgeships would receive a nomination on the first ballot in the convention.

According to the official figures furnished by Mr. Massengale last night, the standing of the five leaders in 148 counties of the state is as follows: Bloodworth 176, Stephens 160, George 155, Jenkins 146 and Hutcheson 115. The four counties remaining to be heard from are Hart, Habersham, Meriwether and Stephens, with an aggregate of ten votes.

As 191 votes are required to nominate, it is evident that should Mr. Bloodworth be so fortunate as to have carried all four of them, he would still have only 186 votes, or five short of the number needed to nominate him.

Swan Song Sung For All Straw Hats In Atlanta Today

Kelley, Lid, Skypiece, Headgear, Bonnet, Chapeau, Whatever You Choose to Call It, Must Be of Other Material Than Straw.

By R. Bradley Fentress.

Good-bye, "Kelley," you must leave me;
I hate like sin to see you go.
Good-bye, "Kelley," you must leave me;
'Cause Atlanta says it's so!
—With apologies to no one!

This is the ditty which had best be floating from the lips of all Atlantans of the genus homo today. The reason is that today is the day when all hats of the straw variety, be they fancy, plain, domestic or imported, must find their several ways into the depths of the closet, there to repose until the bright sun of the coming summer gives excuse for digging them up.

September 15 has been, for a number of years, the day upon which the swan song of the straw hat is heard. Worse, it is the day when the said song MUST be heard. If not—the wearer takes the responsibility. For from this moment on until the most obdurate are subjugated—or else frozen—every hat of this variety is subject to immediate annihilation. There will be many of the thoughtless ones today who, bareheaded, will wend their ways into the hat emporiums, display the remnants of a tattered and battered straw and deposit two dollars for a new lid.

And if some one catches that hat of yours, gently pull the brim over your dainty ears and advises you to "invest," don't get mad. Purchase yourself a new Kelley, explain things to the wife, and take it out on the other fellow.

What d'ye mean, hats were meant to last always!

A Guide to Good Food Buying

Advertising is the great modern light on all subjects; and in its connection with advertising PURE FOOD has been nothing short of a benefaction to humanity.

The reason of this is obvious. NO MERCHANT WOULD DARE ADVERTISE AN UNWORTHY ARTICLE. If he should, the reflex action would be the smashingest boomerang that ever struck his establishment. So—you can turn to the Grocery and Market advertising in this morning's Constitution with the pleasant assurance that you are consulting authoritative sources for your food supplies, and that you will get THE BEST THE MARKET AFFORDS AT THE VERY LOWEST PRICES.

NOTE—The CONSTITUTION guarantees a marked saving on every purchase made in Atlanta in stores that advertise their lowest prices in these pages.

Daniels Shows Need Of Inland Waterways And Coastal Canals

Philadelphia, September 15.—The imperative need of a great system of inland waterways and coastal canals, which, in addition to providing commercial advantages, would be of inestimable military value in time of war, was pointed out by Secretary Daniels, of the navy department, and Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations, in addresses before the members of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways association at the Philadelphia navy yard today.

The ability of submarines to traverse these inland canals and of battleships to find a haven there in case of invasion was cited by both speakers as one of the greatest arguments in favor of the establishment of the system.

Secretary Daniels promised the delegates the earnest and enthusiastic cooperation of the navy department in any practical plan looking to the improvement of the inland waterways along the coast, while Admiral Benson declared the value of such a system from both an economic and military point of view was sufficient to justify a bond issue to help pay the cost of construction. While Mr. Daniels was speaking a hydro-aeroplane flew up the river. Noticing it, he said: "I can never be happy until we have at least ten aeroplanes to each battleship."

The waterways association, which is advocating the completion of the inland waterway from Massachusetts to Florida, elected officers at the final session tonight.

Col. Slocum Promoted.

San Antonio, Texas, September 15.—Colonel H. J. Slocum, who was commander at Columbus, N. M., when the Villa raid took place, has been assigned as brigade commander at Laredo, Texas, it was announced here today. He will take charge of the brigade composed of Maine and New Hampshire guardsmen.

MEXICO CELEBRATES 106TH ANNIVERSARY OF INDEPENDENCE

Mexico City, September 15.—Celebration of the 106th anniversary of the Declaration of Mexican Independence was opened here tonight by the ringing of the Mexican Liberty bell, which Padre Hidalgo rang 106 years ago in calling the people to arms against the viceroys of Spain, by General Venustiano Carranza, first chief of the de facto government. A large and enthusiastic crowd surrounded the grounds of the national palace during the ceremony.

At 11 o'clock tonight General Carranza appeared on the balcony over the main gate of the palace and opened the celebration, repeating as he pealed the bell the customary words, "Viva Mexico" and "Viva Libertad." The crowd roared back, "Viva Carranza!" and "Viva Independencia!"

The ceremonies were concluded by brief exchanges of felicitations within the palace between Carranza and members of his cabinet and the diplomatic corps.

Carranza is the only man to ring the Liberty bell twice since 1910. In that year it was rung by General Porfirio Diaz, this being Diaz's last time; in 1911 by Francisco De La Barra, in 1912 by Francisco Madero, in 1913 by General Victoriano Huerta, in 1914 by General Carranza and in 1915 by General Pablo Gonzales.

The Mexican capital is gaily decorated tonight in celebration of the event.

MEXIC CONSTABULARY FOR BORDER SERVICE

Plan for Joint American-Mexican Police Force Has Been Abandoned.

New London, Conn., September 15.—A suggestion that the Mexican government create a constabulary for border duty similar to the rurales of the Diaz regime was made today during a brief session of the American-Mexican joint commission, concluding the second week of its deliberations. Apparently the plan for a joint police force, proviously discussed, was abandoned as impracticable after the commissioners had conferred with Major General Bliss, assistant chief of staff of the United States army.

The three Mexican commissioners left for New York tonight to join in the celebration there tomorrow of the Mexican national holiday, arranged by consular officials.

General Bliss, it was learned, made to the joint commission today a dispassionate statement of the situation he believed would follow General Pershing's withdrawal from Mexico before a properly constituted constabulary is created to relieve his troops. It is understood he pointed out the difficulty of creating a border police under dual authority.

There is reason to believe the American commissioners have sought to impress their Mexican conferees with a view that Mexico must recognize a responsibility for the depredations her nationals may commit on the border if good relations are to be unimpaired. The whole question of creating a non-military police force to hunt down bandits in their hill retreats is based on this feeling, and it is believed the suggestion that the Carranza government undertake this task for itself as an international obligation came from the Mexican commissioners.

The theory is that a force of carefully selected mounted police could be disposed in small posts in the hill country. The chase would become an individual pursuit rather than a military movement, which becomes ineffective if the bandits scatter. The police would check up the comings and goings of every man in a suspected community. Moving swiftly and unhampered by women camp followers, who form the commissary of a Mexican military force, the rurales, it is believed, could do much toward putting a permanent check on brigandage.

The question of Mexico's responsibility to protect the American border will be discussed next week. The American commissioners are disposed not to stand upon any technicality of laws, but to deal with the situation as one of fact, taking into consideration Mexico's social and economic conditions.

Other questions it has been planned to discuss next week are plans for the consideration of claims of American citizens against Mexico, allegations of American property owners in Mexico that their property is being confiscated by executive taxation or by decrees providing for forfeitures; the right claimed by the government to take over lands owned by foreigners on the ground that the property has not been used during the period when it was impossible to get to them to operate them, and the consideration of decrees under which American citizens have been driven out of Mexico, or not permitted to practice their professions or carry on their business, contrary to treaty regulations.

DECORATIONS ARE GIVEN BRITISH NAVAL HEROES

London, September 15.—An echo of the Jutland naval battle at the end of May is found in the announcement in the Official Gazette today of the bestowal of three Victoria crosses, two of them posthumous, on participants in the battle. One of those named is a 16-year-old boy, John Travers Cornwall, who, although mortally wounded in the beginning of the battle, remained at his post until the end of the action and then died. He has become a popular hero. The other two names are those of the Hon. Edward Bingham, now a prisoner of the Germans, his ship having been sunk beneath him, and Major Francis Harvey, of the marine corps, who, although mortally wounded, saved his ship from sinking by flooding the magazine. He then died at his post.

Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, in making recommendations for the decorations, says:

"Where all carried out their duties so well it is somewhat individious and difficult to make selections for special recognition."

Admiral Jellicoe himself received the Order of Merit. To Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, who commanded the battle cruiser squadron, is awarded the Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath.

Rear Admirals Evan-Thomas and Pakenham are made knights commander of the Order of the Bath, an honor which is conferred posthumously on Rear Admirals Arbuthnot and Hood, both of whom were killed in action.

Several hundred other decorations for bravery are awarded to officers and men and many promotions are announced.

AMERICAN EXPORTS FOR THE NEUTRALS BARRED

hibited articles, he said, varies with different countries, according to what they already had imported, all allowances being made for imports formerly made to German ports.

How America Will Suffer.

Washington, September 15.—In the absence of information detailing what commodities are affected by the new British restrictions on American trade with Holland and the Scandinavian countries, officials here are uncertain just how heavily American exporters will suffer. Steps to secure this information had been taken tonight, and it was indicated that should any sweeping extension of restrictive measures be revealed it would be regarded as a serious development in the controversy over the legality of allied blockade methods.

No report on the new order has come through official channels, but today's news dispatches regarding it were called immediately to the attention of the British embassy by state department officials with informal inquiries as to the purpose and scope of the proposal. It was said a similar investigation would be made through the American embassy at London.

Officials expressed much concern over the first report that the new order would completely cut off trade with Holland and seriously cripple that with the Scandinavian countries. In some quarters it was suggested that the present was a particularly inopportune time for promulgating such a decree, with Secretary Lansing studying intricacies of the new legislation by which the executive branch of the government is empowered to take drastic retaliatory action against nations interfering with American trade.

Officials Hope for Best.

Later advices, however, saying that only certain unnamed commodities would be affected, led officials to hope that no far-reaching restriction had been attempted.

While American exports to Holland already have been greatly curtailed by a series of British orders, a considerable trade, especially in foodstuffs, still is being done with that country. Wheat, flour, corn, basic oils and tobacco are among the most important articles being sent there.

In addition to the new order, state department officials are investigating an arrangement effected by Great Britain and France for establishment of bureaus to effect an exchange of merchandise on the list of prohibited imports. Official confirmation has been received that such an arrangement has been consummated, but until its effects are understood no formal protest will be made. Legal authorities of the department believe, however, that such a plan is in contravention of the British-American commercial treaty of 1815, which provides for free access of nationals and ships of the respective countries for unrestricted commerce unless prohibitions of imports apply alike to all countries.

Steamship Lines in Dark.

New York, September 15.—Representatives in New York of the Holland-America and other steamship lines operating ships between American and Netherlands and Scandinavian ports said tonight that the cable advices from London were the first intimation they had received of probable changes in the rules to be applied by the entente allies governing cargoes for the neutral nations. They could not understand, they said, the meaning or intent of the new regulations as outlined in the cable advices. The only possible reason, some of the steamship men said, that they could advance was that the existing arrangements by which merchandise for Holland is handled through the Netherlands Overseas Trust have proved to be unsatisfactory and that the rule whereby "assurances of innocent destination" must be obtained from British authorities by all vessels before they leave American ports, was to be applied.

Officials attached to the British consulate here said they were without advices as to any impending changes in the shipping regulations.

INCREASE IS REPORTED IN PARALYSIS CASES

New York, September 15.—Although a slight increase in the infantile paralysis epidemic was reported today by the health authorities, the number of new cases discovered increasing from 36 to 42 within twenty-four hours, city officials said they saw no reason for added alarm, and plans were announced for insuring, if possible, against a fresh outbreak of the disease when the schools open here on September 25.

Representatives of the department of health will be in all of the city's 497 public schools, and in each parochial institution. Every child will be interviewed to learn whether he or she has been out of New York during the summer.

Records thus obtained will be compared with those of the United States public health service. If the place where any child has visited has reported cases of the plague and the child has returned to New York during the previous two weeks, the pupil will be required to furnish a health certificate from the authorities of that town. The same rule will apply to teachers.

Pupils and teachers from infected premises in this city will, it was stated, be quarantined and will not be permitted in schools for a fortnight after such quarantine has been lifted.

AFTER KILLING BABY SHE KILLED HERSELF

Mobile, Ala., September 15.—Mrs. Walter S. Berwick, the wife of a well-to-do farmer, after carefully planning the details, shot her three-months-old son to death and then ended her own life with the same weapon at Summerdale, Baldwin county, Alabama, near here, according to a special received today. In a note she declared her intention to kill her child and herself, but gave no reason for the act. She took her husband's revolver and the child to a lonely road one mile from the Berwick home, where they were found later.

This year's strawberry crop in the United States was worth $20,000,000.

FLORIDA BANK CASHIER MADE TO DELIVER $6,000

Four Men Make Haul at Homestead—Posses Are in Pursuit.

Homestead, Fla., September 15.—While two confederates waited outside in an automobile two heavily armed men held up officials of the State Bank of Homestead late today, robbed the counters of $6,000 and escaped in the direction of the Everglades.

According to the authorities the two robbers who entered the bank forced H. R. Pridgen, vice president, and E. Z. Crowley, cashier, to face the wall, with their hands above their heads. As the men left the bank Pridgen fired six shots after them.

Posses assisted by the Miami, Fla., police gave chase. A report that a racing car containing four women was seen ten miles west of here gave rise to the belief that the robbers had changed dress to confuse the police.

LLOYD-GEORGE DEFENDS CENSORSHIP OF MAILS

Denies That Anything Is Being Done to Injure Honest American Business Interests.

London, September 15.—David Lloyd-George, British secretary for war, today gave the Associated Press the following statement:

"There appears to be a deliberate campaign, set on foot in the United States by German agents, to throw doubt on the good faith of his majesty's government in regard to the use of information obtained through the censorship.

"These German agents, with whose underground methods of working we are quite familiar, appear now to have resurrected my statement in the house of commons on August 8, although that statement was fully explained by Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, on August 9, and most explicit assurances on the same subject were given by him in a latter interview on August 25.

"In spite of this, these propogandists are trying to dress out my statement as something new, nullifying Lord Robert Cecil's assurances which followed it. Let me now say on behalf of the military authorities what has already been said on behalf of the foreign office—that when information is passed on by the censorship to other departments it is for the sole purpose of guiding the action of the government in the conduct of the war.

"For instance, when we get information that an American firm, to whom the foreign office has given a permit for the export of certain goods from Rotterdam, on the ground that these goods had been paid for before the war, is using that permit fraudulently, as frequenly has been the case, we pass the information on to the foreign office in order that they may cancel the permit.

"Again, when we find that a neutral firm is using British banking facilities for the purpose of trading with our enemies and is deceiving the British banks in question as to the real purpose of the transaction, we pass that information on to the proper department in order that they may refuse to license the transaction. Or, again, if we learn that a shipment of contraband ostensibly from one neutral firm to another is really destined for the enemy, we see that the contraband committee gets that information.

"That, frankly stated, is what we do. But we affirm, and challenge anyone to deny it, that honest business interests and trade secrets of an American merchant or manufacturer are as safe in the hands of the military censors and of every other government department as they are in the hands of the American postoffice."

In the house of commons August 8 Mr. Lloyd-George, in answer to questions concerning the use made of a letter written by a neutral manufacturer and examined by the military censor, said, according to The London Times' report of the debate, that the letter in question was not stopped in the sense that it was not allowed to proceed to its destination. "But," the war secretary added, "it is, of course, the practice to communicate to the public department concerned any information on matters public interest which may be obtained through the censorship, for such use to be made of it as the particular department may consider desirable. This was done in thi sinstance."

Lord Robert Cecil in his statement of August 9 said that neutral correspondence in no single instance had been used to assist British competition with peaceful neutral commerce. In his statement to the Associated Press August 25, Lord Robert reiterated that data from trade letters had been used solely for government purposes, "and never for the purpose of substituting allied trade for neutral trade."

LONDON KNOWS NOTHING OF THE CEBU INCIDENT

London, September 15.—No official advices have been received here regarding the incident of the Cebu, the Philippine inter-island steamer reported held up by a British destroyer in Philippine territorial waters, officials first learning of it through the newspapers.

It was said at the foreign office today that an examination of the steamer within the territorial waters of the Philippines was inconceivable, and that there must have been a mistake in the location either by the commander of

Middy Day

In the Junior Department (Third Floor)

Called by Its True Name This Is the Most Comprehensive Display of Middy Blouses Atlanta Has Ever Seen

Middies, Middies, Middies—never have we had so many, such good-looking middies. Time and again in other seasons we have thought we had enough middies to fill the needs of the whole middy-wearing Atlanta, and time and again we have found ourselves running short all too soon.

But preparedness is the word now! We have gathered middies to twice the amount that we have had at any one time before—and what is more they are

Jack Tar Middies
Paul Jones Middies
Mar-Hof-Middies

Makes that stand head and shoulders above the others—each having some little feature about it that appeals to the young folk; each being made to render service through a season of hard wear.

Indeed, we have prepared fully to meet all the middy-needs of Atlanta—prepared with all the better styles of other seasons, with styles new to this season, shown now for the first time.

Jack Tar and Paul Jones Middies at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00 and $2.25—all white, white with trimmings of many colors, with serge colors, navy blue middies, white, rose and green middies in belted styles. Long and short sleeves.

Jack Tar Middies at $3.00, $3.50, $4.50, $6.50—of navy serge, perfectly tailored, showing neat, attractive emblems on the sleeves. Long and short sleeves.

Mar-Hof Middies $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00—in white and colors. To the knowing the name Mar-Hof tells much as to quality. Those at $2.00 have serge collars.

Nothing has been left undone in the way of making ready for this Middy Day, so let the children, the young women about to leave for college avail themselves of the opportunity.

The Aristocrats of the New Fashions in Women's High Boots

On this, the "official" opening day of the High Boot season, we feel a certain satisfaction that comes of work well done.

Here are the boots, the aristocratic SOROSIS BOOTS that lead the fashions for fall. To tell you how they are such and why they are such would be much like telling how and why one painting is a work of art and another is but a painting. You sense the distinction, the art of one the moment you clap eyes on it.

It is upon this basis that you are invited to this High Boot Day Display—for a better appreciation of what Sorosis Styles are this year.

Black, chocolate, brown, ivory and gray kidskin boots with tops of the same material. $5.00 to $8.00.

Gray, brown and black kidskin boots with uppers to match, made of buckskin. $9.00 to $10.00.
These are two of the novelties.

P. S. Overgaiters are in great favor, for street wear, for wear these cool evenings to and from dancing parties. Black, gray, brown and champagne—$1.50 to $3.50.

Society

Debut Dinners.

For the formal opening event of the social season—the Hallowe'en ball at the Piedmont Driving club, the last of October—a number of parties are already being arranged, and practically all the season's buds will make their debut on this occasion.

Miss Eloise Robinson, Miss Patty McGehee and Miss Harriet McDaniel will be among those giving large parties.

Miss Lamar Slaton and Miss Alice Preston, of Baltimore, who will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Slaton at that time, and Miss Caroline Blount and Miss Florence Taylor, of Wilmington, who will visit Miss Blount, will be honor guests in groups of the debutante set.

To Visitors.

Miss Dorothy Traynham will entertain at luncheon today in compliment to Miss Laura Sawtell and her guests, Miss Julia Shackleford and Miss Mary Ida Wood, of Birmingham. For tonight a party is planned in their honor at the dinner-dance at East Lake, and last night they were honor guests at a theater party at the Forsyth.

Miss Sawtell, Miss Shackleford and Miss Wood leave Sunday night for Randolph-Macon.

To Mrs. E. Powell Frazer.

Mrs. Orme Campbell entertained informally at luncheon Thursday in compliment to Mrs. E. Powell Frazer, wife of the former consul at Lucerne, who came up from their country home near Macon to enter her daughter, Miss Fradonia Frazer, at Washington seminary, and her son, James, at Georgia Military academy.

HUNDREDS OF LETTERS RECEIVED BY DORSEY

Candidate for Governor Unable to Answer All Congratulations at the Present.

So many congratulatory letters and telegrams have poured in upon Governor-elect Hugh M. Dorsey from all parts of the state since the primary that he finds it a physical impossibility to send a personal reply to all of them just now. Accordingly he issued a short statement last night in which he conveys to each of his friends his profound appreciation of their support and promises to make full acknowledgement of their courtesy in due time. His statement follows:

"Since the primary I have been very nearly overwhelmed with letters and telegrams from my good friends in every part of Georgia, congratulating me upon the great honor I am about to receive.

"I want all of those who have written or telegraphed to me, to know that I have received their congratulations and that in due time I shall make full acknowledgement of their courtesy. For the present I am unable to do so, for there are so many other pressing matters demanding my time and attention that I shall have my hands full of work for some days.

"In the meantime I assure all my friends that I am profoundly grateful not only for the honor they have done me, but also for the cordial manner of its doing."

Ad Men's Club Arranges Series of Advertising Lectures

With the purpose of intensive study of the principles and practice of advertising, especially in its relation to merchandising, the Ad Men's club, of Atlanta, has outlined a course of lectures and study for the coming year comprehensive enough to cover minutely every phase of the advertising question.

In the words of Pepper, the official organ of the club, "Everyone knows something about advertising and no one knows everything about it. We are going to find the man who knows most about what you know least, and we are going to have him tell you what he knows." In carrying out this idea, the club, through its various committees, has arranged the above mentioned course of talks and studies.

Under President P. C. McDuffie, the club faces a most prosperous year, both in a financial sense and in the number of things which are planned to be accomplished. Immediately upon the installation of the new officers recently the club appointed the various committees and outlined the work of each.

"Each committee," said Mr. McDuffie "forms a cog in the great wheel of our organization, and with each committee doing its share of the work assigned, the Ad Men's club this year will accomplish great things in making for a bigger and better Atlanta."

The following are the committees selected:

POLICE AND FIREMEN TO RECEIVE SALARIES

Mayor Woodward has signed vouchers for the semi-monthly pay of the police and firemen. After he had signed the vouchers, amounting to about $20,000, there was left in the treasury a sum of about $6,000.

The last time the pay for these departments fell due the city was not able to meet the bill. The Fourth National bank agreed to lend the money without interest until the city could catch up. Since that time the mayor has paid back money loaned for the firemen and policemen, but the money advanced the city for the teachers is still unpaid. This amounts to about $50,000. This sum will be paid as soon as it comes into the treasury.

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for September 16th, the leading article presents a careful estimate of the President's chances of winning the labor vote, based upon the editorial utterances of leading newspapers of every shade of political opinion in the United States.

RATE HEARING ADJOURNS UNTIL OCTOBER SECOND

After Considering Proposed Rate on Stoves Commission Takes Recess.

The state railroad commission at the conclusion of the hearing Friday afternoon adjourned the hearing upon the petition of the railroads of Georgia for a general revision of intrastate rates until October 2.

The commission will then sit in this hearing until October 6 and from October 9 until October 13, inclusive, further than which dates for sittings have not been announced. It will likely take the carriers until November 1 to complete the presentation of their testimony. There will then be a recess until the shippers and others opposing the proposed rates or any portion of them shall have had sufficient time to prepare their answer. It ill then likely take the opposition a month to put in their answer.

At the afternoon session Friday C. McD. Davis, general freight agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, explained the proposed special commodity rates of the carriers upon petroleum and petroleum products, including benzine, gasoline and coal oil. Mr. Davis proposed a rate for these commodities on a parity with the interstate rates effective January 1, 1916, by the fourth section order of the interstate commerce commission.

Lawyers Clash.

A statement of Mr. Davis precipitated a heated argument between Merrel Callaway, chief counsel for the railroads, and W. A. Wimbish, counsel for the Georgia Shippers' association, when Mr. Davis was placed on cross-examination.

Mr. Caskie, also representing the shippers, desired to know how the proposed rates would help Savannah.

Mr. Davis replied that it would furnish a relatively lower rate from Savannah than from other south Atlantic ports to Georgia ports, and that it would be to the interest of Savannah to build up business of the shippers of petroleum and petroleum products.

Mr. Wimbish, taking the witness, wanted to know if, really, the only interests to be benefited would not be the railroads. When Mr. Davis, answering a question as to the rates to Macon, volunteered information as to the rates to Albany, he was interrupted by Mr. Wimbish, who stated that all he was interested in was an answer to his question, and that Mr. Davis might volunteer anything else he wanted to, but without solicitation from him.

Says Wimbish Is Discourteous.

Mr. Callaway instantly objected and accused Mr. Wimbish of being discourteous.

Chairman C. M. Candler, of the commission, stated that it is the customary method of procedure that a witness shall first answer a question, and then, if he desires, submit a further statement throwing light upon the question.

Mr. Callaway then desired to know if it were not rather unusual that Mr. Wimbish, representing the shippers, should fail to take into consideration a rate proposed which would be of benefit to the shippers of Savannah.

Mr. Wimbish objected warmly, and Chairman Candler asserted that this controversy was purely argumentative and not relative, to which Mr. Callaway agreed with the statement that—

"Mr. Wimbish was trying to make a grandstand play."

This drew the hot reply from Mr. Wimbish that he "did not make grandstand plays."

A mild sensation was created when Mr. Wimbish, in reply to the chairman's question as to how the proposed future hearings met his convenience, declared that the commission in admitting so much detail from the carriers was "unfair to itself, and—pardon me—to the state."

Mr. Wimbish declared that, while he was willing to submit to the will of the commission as to hearings, there was no necessity for the mass of detail which the carriers were submitting and that their testimony might be materially cut without detriment to their case. He declared that the carriers had no call upon the commission for so much time; that no human mind could absorb so much detail and that the commission would have to refer to the record in considering the case, anyway. To allow the carriers to take up so much time in presenting the detail of their case, said Mr. Wimbish, was unfair to the commission and to the interests of the state.

Proposal of Wimbish.

Mr. Wimbish then proposed that the commission allow the hearing to proceed, in the interest of time and other business before the commission, before one commissioner representing the entire commission.

Mr. Candler replied that the commission has no power to appoint investigators, and that the commission does not care to direct either the carriers or the shippers as to how to conduct the presentation of their respective sides of the case.

"We are willing," said Chairman Candler, "to sit here and listen to all the necessary detail that may be presented by either side. I think that, as Mr. Wimbish says, no unnecessary detail should be presented, but the commission proposes to listen just as patiently to the detail that may be submitted by the opposition to the proposed rates when the time shall arrive for them to make their reply.

Says Rates Discriminate.

Declaring that the present rates on stoves and ranges between points within the state of Georgia are so much lower and so discriminating against the interstate rates from points in nearby states that stove manufacturers in some instances have withdrawn their salesmen from Georgia territory, Randall Clifton, assistant freight traffic manager of the Southern railway, Friday morning asked the state railroad commission to put into effect the proposed new commodity scale of the carriers to remedy this alleged discriminatory situation.

Stoves are manufactured in Georgia at Atlanta, Rome and Columbus, and these points would, therefore, be intimately affected.

MRS. DEAN LOSES CUSTODY OF CHILD AFTER LONG FIGHT

By a ruling of Judge George L. Bell, of the Fulton superior court, yesterday Mrs. Sadie Dean, 195 Ivy street, lost her sensational fight for the custody of her little daughter, Mildred, the court awarding the child to the temporary custody of its paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dean, 137 Walton street, pending the final hearing of its status in connection with the divorce proceedings between its parents.

Mrs. Dean is accused of having kidnaped her daughter two weeks ago from the home of her husband's parents, and it was upon habeas corpus proceedings that it was yesterday restored to their care. She appeared greatly attached to the youngster and in court yesterday both she and little Mildred wept when the little girl was taken from her.

She is permitted under the court's order to visit her child on Sunday and Wednesday afternoon, and she was instructed to immediately report to the court any obstructions which might be placed in the way to prevent such visits.

Mrs. Dean was represented by Attorney Thomas Goodwin, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dean at yesterday's hearing by Attorney Leonard Grossman, acting for Attorneys Felder, Grossman & Johnson, their counsel.

POLICE COMMITTEE WANTS BOOZE DEPOT IN CENTER OF CITY

The police committee at its last meeting informally discussed the ordinance to bring into the fire limits the whisky depot of the Southern Express company, now located at Mangum and Chapel streets, close to the Walker Street school. Friday members of the committee said they would favorably recommend the ordinance to council at its meeting Monday.

Officials of the company have notified the city they intend to fight the proposed removal of their place of business through the courts. They have so notified the law department of the city and the members of the police committee and the mayor.

Citizens of the first ward claim that the depot is a nuisance and should be moved. They claim it is too near a school. Officials of the company assert they have gone to considerable expense in fitting out the depot and they were not informed the city would fight the location.

Council several meetings ago passed the ordinance and it was returned by the mayor on the ground that the company had not been given a chance to lay its side of the case before that body. The mayor has indicated that he will sign the ordinance, if it is passed, but predicts a court fight.

Twelve passenger trains, four of them specials, brought the students to Milledgeville yesterday. This was a great day in passenger traffic with every railroad in Georgia, all trains carrying special coaches from every section of the state.

Extra coaches for G. N. & I. girls were put on in seven cities, Savannah, Albany, Covington, Cordele, Augusta, and Atlanta.

The 900 girls arrived well and happy, not a mishap occurring to any one of them. Baggage cars for over 1,000 trunks were provided. Counting suit cases, there were at least 3,000 pieces of baggage. Over 100 automobiles were here yesterday, bringing girls from nearby counties. Dr. Parks had everything systematically arranged, each student's trunk and suit case was plainly marked with her name, dormitory and room number. In a few minutes after arrival every girl was "at home" swapping vacation happenings with her chums.

BOY REGRETS HIS BLOOD DIDN'T SAVE JUDGE POPE

Thomasville, Ga., September 15.—The death of Judge William H. Pope, of New Mexico, which occurred in Atlanta this week, is a matter of regretful interest to a Thomasville boy, who generously contributed a share of his blood to aid in restoring the jurist to health.

Some weeks ago the physician attending Judge Pope, finding all remedies of no avail in restoring his patient to health decided as a last resort that an infusion of young healthy blood might be beneficial. Stopping with relatives next door to the physician was Taylor Mitchell, Jr., a 16-year-old Thomasville boy, whose splendid physical condition had attracted the admiration of the doctor, and he at once thought of him as in adeal subject for the experiment. Upon mentioning the matter to young Mitchell he at once agreed to let as much blood be taken from his as was needed. For a while the transfusion of fresh young blood into his veins seemed to be of help to Judge Pope, but it proved to be only temporary.

WOUNDED NEGRO FAILS IN EFFORT TO ESCAPE

William Thomas, a negro who killed his sweetheart and then shot himself so badly physicians at Grady hospital thought he was going to die, escaped from the hospital in his night shirt early Friday morning and, after stealing clothes from a house, was in a fair way to escape for good. But Officers Long and Roberts, of the police department, got word of what had happened, and when they caught sight of William at Auburn avenue and Bell street they gave chase.

Then Officer Roberts opened fire, aimed at the ground near the flying feet of the fast disappearing William. The bullet hit William's heel and the quarry was secured. William is now at the police station with a charge of murder against him.

JOHN GATINS IS DEAD AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Funeral Services Will Be Held Sunday at Church of Immaculate Conception.

John Gatins, 86 years old, a pioneer citizen of Atlanta, died Friday of pneumonia at his home in the Adriatic apartments at 312 Rawson street, after an illness of only four days. Mr. Gatins was a resident of Atlanta for sixty-seven years and had a wide circle of friends.

He was born eighty-six years ago in Donegall, Ireland. At eighteen years of age he came to America. In New York and Savannah he spent one year and then came on to Atlanta, where he has resided for the remainder of his life. His first position here was with the old Macon and Western railroad. At the outbreak of the civil war he was appointed to the commissary department of the confederate army. When the war was brought to a close he entered the mercantile business, which he followed until twenty years ago, when he retired from active business life.

Mr. Gatins married Miss Mary Cullen, of Atlanta, whose sister married his brother. Mrs. Gatins died in 1908.

Mr. Gatins was a member of the order of Catholic Knights of America and of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, of this city.

He is survived by two nieces, Mrs. John E. Murphey and Miss Mamie Gatins, of Atlanta, and five children, Mrs. J. D. Clark, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Nell Gatins, principal of the Inman Park school; Miss Celia Gatins and W. S. and J. A. Gatins, all of Atlanta. There are four grandchildren, Cyril Gatins Clark, Roland Clark William Gatins, Jr., and John Gatins, Jr.

The funeral will be held Sunday at 11:30 o'clock in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Rev. Father Robert Kennedy officiating. The interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

CHILDREN UNDER 17 ARE NOT PERMITTED TO SEE "THE UNBORN"

While "The Unborn," which is booked to play the Georgian theater for the week, beginning Monday, is not a play that is filmed in a way that could offend the finer feelings of the most sensitive, still there is in it the discussion of a subject that could scarcely be understood or appreciated by those of tender years, and for this reason no person under the age of seventeen years shall witness the performance.

"The Unborn" is a discussion of "birth control," in which the subject is handled in a frank manner. It strikes at the very root of an evil, and truthfully shows the great menace that faces society in the practice. Splendid photography and beautiful scenery adds to this story, and makes it an exceptionally interesting play, and one that should be seen by every adult.

HEAVY COATS WILL BE COMFORTABLE TODAY

Fair skies and cooler weather is promised by the weather man for Atlanta today. Temperatures will take a drop and heavier coats and wraps will be found comfortable.

Rains were reported in the last twenty-four hours from many of the coast states. The storm, central over southern Georgia on Friday, moved up the coast. The area of cold weather in the northwest is moving southward and is due to reach this state. Temperatures here will not be materially lower, but the drop will be felt. The prospects are favorable for a continued period of fair weather for this vicinity.

The lowest temperature recorded Friday was 66 degrees and the highest was 76 degrees.

CITY DETECTIVES ALLOWED TO RIDE WITHOUT CHARGE

Chairman Andy King, Councilman Edwin Johnson and Councilman Inman paid a visit Friday to President Arkwright of the Georgia Railway and Power company and they informed Mayor Woodward after the conference that an arrangement had been made by which members of the detective department would be permitted to ride the cars without charge until November.

The visit was made after Mayor Woodward had refused to sign a voucher for $200 to buy street car tickets for the detective force. He said the city did not have the money. He expressed the opinion that if the men in uniform were permitted to ride without charge the men in plain clothes should also have that right.

THE SOUTH IN LUCK.

Notwithstanding this is not a bumper crop year the country over, according to agricultural reports just gathered and disseminated by the federal government, the south is in luck for two reasons. In the first place, with a crop of cotton just slightly below normal, there is promised the best price for it received since the civil war, and after that the farmers of this section have made more food supplies at home for man and beast than ever before in their history.

Discussing the crop reports just issued from Washington by the National Department of Agriculture, The Boston Transcript says:

> Not a bumper year, agriculturally, is this year of 1916, according to the estimates in the government's September crop report. The hot August has pulled down the estimated total of every crop except hay, tobacco and rice. The wheat crop is estimated at 611,000,000 bushels, against 1,012,000,000 bushels last year—a smaller total crop than in any year since 1904. Corn is 67,000,000 bushels behind last year, oats 43,000,000 bushels behind, and potatoes 46,000,000 bushels behind. For the first time in many years, the United States produces only enough wheat for its own normal consumption, leaving nothing to export. England is already endeavoring to anticipate this condition by buying wheat in Argentina. But Argentina, whose normal production of wheat is below that of our single state of North Dakota, cannot supply the English demand. Broadly speaking, this shortage is likely to tell on the hungry populations of Europe more severely than on ourselves—although western Europe is anticipating a relief from the shortage through the prospective opening of the Bosphorus and Dardanelles, and the consequent dumping upon its markets of a great accumulation of Russian wheat. A high price is likely to compensate our western farmers for a short crop; the deficiency in the corn crop is not serious, and the general agricultural balance will be raised by the unprecedented production of hay, tobacco and rice.

It is apparent in the first place that we shall have enough, and more than enough, to take care of ourselves, even though prices of food products may rule somewhat higher than usual. It is clear, in the second place, that it is more than ever up to England and the allies to open the Dardanelles to protect themselves in the matter of their food supplies.

While they can get the American surplus and that of Argentina, these two combined will not come anywhere near filling their wants for the next twelve months. Short production and allied demand will necessarily make prices rule high for American products.

In all of this scarcity and high price situation, the south is better prepared to take care of itself than ever. Its cotton, with a yield somewhat short of normal, is bringing the best price known in more than a quarter of a century; while its food production has been such that it will have to spend comparatively little cash to make up the deficit.

The south is truly walking on a velvet carpet whose nap will grow thicker and thicker as the fall and winter seasons progress.

FEEDING THE GUNS.

To keep the shells flying at the war fronts even the poorer classes of Europe are contributing of their scant means—taxing their very poverty to the limit.

For a time they hid their little savings against the "rainy day" in out-of-the-way places; but when their country's need was made plain to them, they placed their all in circulation.

One poor woman, who had sold all she possessed of value to help swell the war fund, said that since it had to be, she gave it willingly, for the war had taught even the poor how to do without common comforts—a war which at least would leave them a grave to rest in!

That is from the viewpoint of the burdened, war-taxed, patriotic poor; but the nobility and the well-to-do middle classes are now feeling the pinch of war in greater degree than ever. The Boston Transcript says there is a furniture auction every week in London and Paris, and hard-pressed noblemen are clearing off their heirlooms to meet war demands; that within the last four months more than $6,000,000 worth of furniture and objects of art have been sold by European owners to Americans, and that this process will go on through the remainder of the war, and after it, undoubtedly doubling this figure. "In a sense," says The Transcript, "Europe is paying for bomb shells with old furniture!" Here is the situation, and the philosophy of it:

> It is a curious process. Bomb shells have no intrinsic value, no value of use; they represent mere destruction. Nor does antinque furniture bought at a price far beyond its mere value for the purpose of sitting down upon, possess intrinsic worth. A chair for which $4 is paid may be exactly as good for that purpose as a rare Chippendale worth $1,000. So the process is an exchange of luxuries—the luxury of death for the luxury of refinement. But how vastly to the advantage of America it is—that we, in return for, say $12,000,000 "worth" of engines of destruction, which may be razing European towns to the ground, should scatter through all our homes of wealth the most beautiful furniture that the world ever produced!

The nobility of Europe may be able to stand the constant drain on their resources, and the homes of the wealthy of America may be enriched as indicated, but the pity of it is that the poor of Europe feel the heavy hand of war to such a great extent—no less patriotic than their rich brethren of the nobility.

Rich and poor have come to see things in the light of the English sentiment that no one suffers—no one dies, if the country lives!

So it is all upon the altar of country, giving freely to a war which may only grant them a grave!

JUSTICE GILBERT.

The appointment by Governor Harris of Judge Price Gilbert, of Columbus, to fill the vacancy on the supreme court bench caused by the death of Justice Joseph H. Lumpkin, will meet with general commendation.

Judge Gilbert has presided for a decade as judge of the superior court of the Muscogee circuit, and his service on that bench has been characterized by an honest, able and fearless effort to enforce the law.

Judge Gilbert served his people long and well in the general assembly, and afterwards as solicitor general, making a record in both positions that called him to the judgeship.

There are few men in Georgia who have more personal friends than Judge Gilbert, and his designation by the governor to the vacancy on the supreme bench will be warmly applauded as an appointment well made and worthily bestowed.

MR. HUGHES' INCONSISTENCY.

Inconsistency on the part of a man of supposedly judicial temperament is the more to be wondered at.

Justice Hughes, who left the supreme court to become the republican presidential candidate, is very much disturbed over the fact, according to his speeches appealing for votes, that republicans should have been displaced for offices with democrats under a democratic administration.

In cases of this sort the record at times is not uninteresting. The New York World has proceeded to secure the following direct from the Civil Service Reform association, and this record shows that Mr. Hughes, in his own comparatively brief political career, did some displacing himself. The World says:

> Albert de Roode, for six years assistant secretary of the Civil Service Reform association and now its counsel, shows from the records that Mr. Hughes as governor ordered 218 civil service exemptions in less than four years, as against 182 exemptions in Odell's four years and sixty-two in Higgins' two years. In addition, under the Hughes administration there were 345 "special exemptions," with $1,076,249.88 compensation, where appointments were made to competitive positions without examinations. The public service commissions, created under Governor Hughes, served as dispensers of over $1,000,000 in spoils. During the first year of the operation of the law sixty-seven positions were exempted by Mr. Hughes.
>
> "As a matter of fact," says Mr. de Roode, "those interested in civil service reform made repeated efforts during the Hughes administration to have him appoint a vigorous commission in full sympathy with the merit system, but without success."

It would appear that a man with the "judicial temperament" would incline somewhat more to consistency. But if consistency in matters of this sort has ever been any part of the republican program, we do not recall the exemplar of it.

Mr. Hughes, supreme court justice though he was, is like all the rest of them and is taking advantage of every possible opportunity to play politics. In this case, however, his own record speaks louder than his platform eloquence.

The people of the country will scarcely vote for him upon the theory that he will maintain high and consistent civil service standards.

Bread may want to rise to give us the exercise of pelting it down with dollars.

"Don't talk about your troubles," says The Columbus (Ohio) Journal. Most people wear a long face, and let 'em speak for themselves.

So many good things said of congress it may want to rest on its laurels when it's time to hit 'em up again.

General Brussiloff says the war will last another year; but if he's killing them off as fast as Russian report says, how can it?

It is announced that the sultan "has dropped into poetry." But he has a harder fall than that coming to him.

Interesting Analysis of The Vote for Governor

Editor Constitution: One of the outstanding features of the recent campaign was the effort made by certain newspapers to deflect Dr. Hardman's vote to Governor Harris. Undoubtedly Dr. Hardman's campaign was weakened in this way, but it is interesting to note that, had every vote cast for Dr. Hardman been given to Governor Harris, Mr. Dorsey nevertheless would have carried 80 counties, with a convention vote of 196—more than enough to effect his nomination on the first ballot. In the following counties Mr. Dorsey's vote exceeded the vote of Governor Harris and Dr. Hardman combined:

Bacon, Barrow, Bartow, Ben Hill, Bleckley, Butts, Campbell, Carroll, Cherokee, Clay, Crawford, Clayton, Cobb, Coweta, Dawson, Dekalb, Decatur, Douglas, Elbert, Emanuel, Evans, Fannin, Fayette, Floyd, Franklin, Fulton, Gilmer, Glascock, Gordon, Grady, Greene, Gwinnett, Habersham, Hall, Harris, Haralson, Hart, Hancock, Henry, Heard, Irwin, Jasper, Jeff Davis, Jefferson, Johnson, Liberty, Lincoln, Macon, Madison, Marion, Meriwether, Milton, Mitchell, Montgomery, Morgan, Newton, Oconee, Oglethorpe, Paulding, Pickens, Pike, Polk, Quitman, Rockdale, Schley, Spalding, Stephens, Taliaferro, Tattnall, Taylor, Terrell, Troup, Turner, Upson, Walton, Warren, Webster, Wheeler, Wilcox and Wilkes.

You have doubtless noticed that certain papers, which are notoriously imaginative, now claim that had they succeeded entirely in deflecting Dr. Hardman's vote, their preelection predictions would have been justified. I take it that the above is ample refutation of their claim.

Mr. Dorsey would have carried many more counties than the above had Dr. Hardman not been in the race at all. For instance, in Jackson county, which Dr. Hardman carried, Mr. Dorsey received 1,294 votes against Governor Harris' 158. Could anyone conceive that this county would have gone for Governor Harris?

Yours very truly,

Third Seeing Georgia Tour Postponed Until November 8

The change of the date in the operation of the third Seeing-Georgia tour from September 20 to November 8, seems to have given general satisfaction to all those interested in the operation of the tour, if letters and telephone messages received at the offices of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce are to be taken as an indication of the attitude of the public on the subject. In a letter from Dr. George B. Smith, chairman of the committee in charge of the north Georgia end of the tour, he says:

"I am very glad that you have seen fit to postpone the tour. We are very much interested in the North Georgia fair at present and it would have been difficult for us to have had the proper representation on the tour as first outlined. The tour in November should be a great success and you can depend upon us to come across from this end of the state.

"I will have a delegation in Macon on September 21, going down via Southern railway. We have a very good schedule and should have a good delegation."

A letter from George R. Benton, manager of the Hotel Savannah, says:

"I have the matter of entertainment for the tourists up with several of our energetic citizens, and I am sure that Savannah will arrange for some sort of appreciative entertainment and just as soon as I can find out something definite regarding the matter of the entertainment, we will be pleased to communicate with you. The change of date will give us more time to arrange for the coming of the tourists."

In a letter from F. Lombard Brinson, secretary of the M. & M. association, of Augusta, he says:

"About coming to Augusta with the Third Seeing-Georgia tour, come on—glad to have you. I told Mr. Clarke about this a month ago. We will fix up some kind of entertainment—just leave that to us. When you leave Rome, wire us how many are on the trip—not cars, but people.

May Lengthen Tour.

Urgent requests are being filed with the managing committee of the tour in view of the change of date for the operation of the tour asking that the tour be extended from Savannah through Brunswick to Jacksonville. Towns below Savannah along this line of route, which is one of the links on the Dixie highway, are offering the guarantee to have any bad places in the route between Savannah and Jacksonville put into condition, and a letter from the Jacksonville Board of Trade assures the tourists a big time and a rousing reception in the city of Jacksonville.

The next meeting of the managing committee of the tour will occur on the 28th of September at which time the lengthening of the tour and other matters will be taken up for consideration.

The chairman of the entry committee of the tour states that the change of date will undoubtedly enable the tour to leave Atlanta with not less than one hundred cars, thus making it the most notable automobile tour ever operated through the state.

The managing committee of the tour are very anxious to receive from cities along the route proposed suggestions as to the kind of entertainment they propose to give the tourists and what length of time they desire the tourists to remain in their city. The managing committee of the tour will also be glad to receive suggestions from points not on the proposed route as to any minor changes in the route which would enable the tour to pass through their city. All communications in regard to the tour should be addressed to Manager, Third Seeing-Georgia Tour, care of Georgia Chamber of Commerce, Atlanta, Georgia.

Voices in the Street.

(From The London Times.)

On a summer evening two years ago I was sitting in a house in a London thoroughfare—a street for the privilege of living in which people people pay large sums of money. I suddenly became aware that I was surrounded not by peace and repose, but by the most hideous uproar and cacophony. Every kind of painful noise—groans, hoots, sounds like the squealing of pigs and the dying utterances of animals in torture—rent the air; in other words, the fashionable world was going out to dinner, and these noises were the sounds of its motor cars. In one minute by my watch I counted no fewer than seventy-four different hoots or squeals from motor cars; and with increase or abatement at certain hours, this state of affairs went on all day and half the night.

The other day I was sitting at the same hour in the same place; and I heard—voices in the street. There was no other regular sound. Now and then a taxi or a motor would hoot by the corner; but it was a rare enough event for one's attention to be arrested by the approaching murmur and buzz of the machine and to listen for its vanishing again into the silence. In the intervals the absence of vehicular traffic made it possible for one to hear quite far away down the street the sounds of voices and ringing laughter.

It was only then that I realized how rare a thing ordinarily it is to hear human voices in the streets of London. A great blanket of sound once covered and obliterated everything. The clip-clop of the hansom cab and the jingling of heavy horse vehicles in time gave place to the droning and buzzing and whining of internal combustion engines and their gears—and above such commotion no merely human sounds are audible. The steady draining away of nonessential traffic has enormously reduced the volume of sound; and now, with the restriction on the petrol supply added, the streets in certain parts of London have become as quiet as those in a country town. So much so that, as you walk through the West End of London anywhere between Pimlico and Marylebone on a fine night, you will find street after street in which the principal sounds to be heard are those of footsteps and voices.

Has Jeanne D'Arc's Signature.

(From The New York Times.)

All credulous and believing France thinks today that the country is being saved by Jeanne d'Arc. As Marie Van Vorst says, "Just think of it, in the twentieth century, when the war is being fought in the air and under the sea, there remains enough of spiritual faith to believe that the salvation of a country comes through prayer."

In this connection it is of interest to note that two autograph signatures of Jeanne d'Arc exist in the archives of the French family of De Maleissye at the chateau of Vigeau, near Reims. The Marquis de Maleissye is a descendant of the eldest brother of the maid, whose daughter, the Marquise de Goulaine, saved the letters and other relics of the maid by burying them. The Marquis de Maleissye heard these particulars from the marquise.

If Council Doesn't Do It, Will Be a Public Shame!

Editor Constitution: I noted with much interest your recent editorial in The Constitution commending the police department for its efforts in ferreting out and calling a halt upon surreptitious and illegal methods of purveying and dealing in alcoholic liquors in contravention of the state prohibition laws, and I desire to thank you for your assistance and encouragement along this line.

It is my desire to do everything possible to suppress the violation of the prohibition law, as well as other laws, so long as it is on our statute books. However, we are handicapped to a certain degree in doing this work, as at times it is necessary to spend money in order to secure evidence, and I am compelled to use my own money, as council has made no appropriation for this purpose. If council could see its way clear to make an appropriation for the purpose of catching blind tigers and ferreting out crimes and doing special detective work, it would certainly add a great deal to the efficiency of the department.

Again thanking you for kind expressions, and co-operation in our efforts to enforce the law, I am,

W. M. MAYO, Chief of Police.

Autumn and Heels.

(From The Indianapolis News.)

The spring may play strange tricks with our fancies, but they are as nothing compared with what the autumn does to our heels. You must know yourself how it is. The spring sets you dreaming, but the autumn sets you tramping, and you tramp away into strange and lively adventures. Of course, the adventures do not exactly belong to you heels. In fact, the heels have little to do with them, for there are places where your heels can not go and things that your heels can not understand. It is, however, your heels that are primarily responsible. There is a springiness in them these fall days that will not be denied, and the springiness seems to get into the rest of you. It is so contagious that it actually affects your way of looking at things and people.

When the autumn first gets into your heels you are pretty sure to take to the country roads. The morning is the time for that, the morning when the distance is wrapped in haze and the nearer air is clean and the sun and wind are gay. The automobiles have not begun to stir up the dust, and you have things pretty much to yourself, although as far as that is concerned, your heels can find many a path along the river and many another through the pastures where the automobiles never go. You hustle along out there with your heels pounding merrily, and there is no time nor desire for loafing or dreaming by the way. Somehow you are glad when thereis a hill, for it is a marvelous thing the way those heels take to it, and it seems as though you could go swinging along the whole country over, and the springiness gets into your voice and into your thoughts and into the very heart of you.

As a matter of fact, your heels are not at all particular where they lead you. They can enjoy the town as much as the country as long as they feel the springiness in them, and as for automobiles and street cars, your heels can find many a small street full of adventures that the folk in the automobiles and street cars know nothing of and care little about. Perhaps the evening is the best time for tramping through those queer little streets, the evening when the lights are being reluctantly lighted in the small houses where the people that work are at supper, and in the little shops where men and women are counting their poor profits. The adventures do not sound so interesting or so strange after all, but it is your heels that we are talking about, and the livelier the heels the livelier the imagination. If you let the autumn get into your heels you will find an adventure behind every door and window along the way.

The Life Tide.

I.

Like the sea tide's restless flowing,
To the shore and from the shore,
Is the coming and the going,
Of our life's tide evermore;

II.

Shoreward, seaward, interblending,
Flooding fast, or ebbing slow,
Runs the life tide, never ending,
Coming, going, in its flow.

III.

None know where the life tide's source is,
In what undiscovered sea,
Changeful, dark or bright, its course is,
Dreamlike, in its mystery.

IV.

Like its coming is its going,
Flood and ebb from shore to sea;
Ah, whence comes it? Whither flowing?
Life! What is Eternity?

BULGARS DRIVEN BY ALLIED FORCES

Series of Successes Won in Macedonia--Bulgars Driven Nine Miles—Many Prisoners and Guns Captured.

Heavy strokes are being delivered by General Sarrail's forces against the Bulgarians on the Macedonian front, with marked success, according to Paris. Victories have been won by the Serbians, French and British.

The official statement indicates that the most serious defeat was administered by the Serbians, who drove the Bulgarians back nine miles after several days' fighting west of Lake Ostrovo, capturing many prisoners and 25 cannon.

The French and British drove at the Bulgarian center on both sides of the Vardar, the French taking positions a mile long and half a mile deep east of the river and the British carrying important positions west of the stream.

ALLIES WINNING AGAINST BULGARS.

Paris, September 15.—The entente allies have won a series of successes on the Macedonian front, the war office announced today. French, British and Serbian forces, operating at different points, have broken through the Bulgarian defenses. The French have captured positions half a mile deep over a front of a mile.

A brilliant victory for the Serbians over the Bulgarians was scored after a battle lasting several days west of Lake Ostrovo near the western end of the fighting front.

The British success was effected west of the Vardar, near the center of the entente front, where they captured important positions. The lines forced by the French were in the east of the Vardar.

The Serbians captured 25 cannon and a large number of prisoners as yet uncounted.

The Bulgarians after their defeat, says the statement, retired for a distance of nine miles.

The statement follows:

"From the Struma to Lake Doiran the cannonade continues everywhere on both sides. tI is rather spirited in the mountainous region of Belles.

"On the left bank of the Vardar British troops delivered a violent attack against the Bulgarians, who were supported by contingents of German infantry. This terminated to the advantage of the British. Makukovo was taken by assault, as well as two points north of this locality, where the British established themselves solidly. One hundred prisoners and about ten machine guns were captured by them.

"To the right of the Vardar the French troops took enemy trenches along a front of 1,000 metres to a depth of about 800 metres.

"East of the Corna the Serbians continue to advance toward Vetrenik and Kajeckalan, west of Lake Ostrovo. The battle was under way for several days between the Serbian army and important Bulgarian forces. It resulted in a very brilliant success for our allies. Gornizevo was carried at the point of the bayonet, as well as the greater portion of Malkanize crest.

"Serbian cavalry pursuing the Bulgarians as they retired in disorder captured the village of Eksisu, thus compelling the adversaries to make a precipitate retreat of more than 15 kilometres (9 3-10 miles). During these actions the Serbians captured 25 cannon and took a great number of prisoners, the number of which has not been ascertained.

"On our left wing Franco-Russian forces completely cleared out Bulgarian bands which had advanced as far as Koyani, from the entire region south of Lake Ostrovo for a distance of 60 kilometres.

"Four French aeroplanes dropped numerous bombs on Sofia and, continuing their voyage, landed at Bucharest."

London, September 15.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Saloniki says the victory won by the Serbians has compelled the Bulgarians to retreat.

The Serbians are reported to have captured more than twenty field guns. They took the Bulgarian positions at Malkanidze, northwest of Lake Ostrovo, the dispatch says, whereupon the Bulgarians retired in the direction of Florina.

The Bulgarians also are said to be retreating from positions further south.

BERLIN ADMITS LOSS IN BALKANS.

Berlin, September 15.—(Via London.) Concerning the fighting on the Macedonian front, the German statement of today tells of the repulse of the entente attacks on the Moglencia sector and east of the Vardar. The statement follows:

"Balkan front: At several places we broke up the enemy's resistance, driving him back to the general line of Cazpun-Cara Orman. Prince Frederick William of Hesse fell near Cara Orman. The number of prisoners taken during the combats around Turtukai and in the conquest of this fortress, according to reports now available, is approximately 28,000 men.

"Macedonian front: After violent fighting, Milkanidze, east of Florina, was conquered by the enemy. In the Moglencia sector the enemy's attacks were repulsed. East of the Vardar, British detachments, having obtained a footing in German trenches, were ejected again."

Jake Fretz, of Lansdale, Pa., has one of the most valuable collections of paper money in this country. This money is of all denominations and is issued in all parts of the world. The great book in which it is pasted is ten inches thick, while the pages are broad and long. The notes have a face value of more than $3,500.

GERMANS FORCED TO YIELD GROUND

tacks in the Moglenca sector and east of the Vardar were repulsed.

The Italians have begun a new drive toward Triest. Lines of Austrian entrenchments east of the Vallone have been taken, Rome reports, together with more than 2,100 prisoners. Vienna, while admitting Italian successes on the Isonzo front, declares the first assault is looked upon as a failure.

In the Dobrudja region of Rumania, Bucharest admits that the Russian and Rumanian troops are retiring northward before the advance of the forces of the Central powers. Violent fighting is in progress and have reached the Aluta river northwest of Kronstadt.

There has been no change in the situation on the eastern front from the Carpathians to Riga.

FRENCH CAPTURE GERMAN TRENCHES.

Paris, September 15.—North of the Somme the French forces today took a system of trenches 500 metres deep from the Germans north of the Le Priez farm, thus, with the aid of the British, rendering the encirclement of the town of Combles closer, says the war office communication issued tonight.

It is added that near Berny-En-Santerre, south of the Somme, three German trenches and 200 prisoners, five of them officers, were captured. Successful aviation operations also were carried out on the Somme front.

The communication says:

"North of the Somme we accomplished an advance north of Le Priez farm, where we took a system of trenches to a depth of 500 metres. This advance, in connection with the British operations, marks the beginning of the encircling of Combles.

"There was some lively fighting today east of the Bethune road and north of Bouchavesnes, during which we enlarged our positions.

"South of the Somme two attacks, begun at 4 p. m., in the sector of Deniecourt, Berny, brought us considerable gains. East of Deneicourt a trench strongly held by the enemy and a small wood were captured after a quick fight.

"Northeast of Berny three trenches were succesfully conquered by us. We took 200 prisoners and ten machine guns. The latest advices say that the ground won this afternoon is covered with German dead.

"On the remainder of the front the day was relatively calm, except in the sectors of Thiaumont, Fleury and Vaux-Chapitre, where the artillery duel continues sharply.

In Aviation Field.

"Aviation: Our aviators on the Somme front distinguished themselves, particularly in numerous combats above the enemy's lines. Lieutenant Guynemer felled his sixteenth, Lieutenant Nungesser his twelfth, Lieutenant Hturtaux his sixth and Lieutenant de Rothefort his sixth aircraft, while in a recent fight it is confirmed that Lieutenant de Ullin won his sixth victory. Two other German machines were attacked at close range and compelled to descend, seriously damaged.

"On the Verdun front one enemy machine was felled north of Douaumont. In the Vosges our anti-aircraft artillery brought one Fokker down near Lures.

"Our bombing squadrons were also very active Thursday night. A group of ten machines drepped 77 bombs and 128 incendiary bombs on the station and railway at Tergnier and Chatenay and on the station and barracks at Guiscard. Numerous hits were made. A huge fire was observed at Tergnier and the commencement of another blaze at Guiscard.

"Another squadron dropped forty shells on the barracks at Stenay, where several fires were observed, and forty bombs on works at Pombach. One of our pilots pushed as far as Dillingen, in the valley of the Aar and dropped eight bombs on a large factory, where a fire is reported to have been observed. The same night the Pombach blast furnaces received ten bombs and four more bombs fell on the railway station between Metz and Pont-a-Mousson, which was seriously damaged."

GERMAN TRENCHES CAPTURED.

Paris, September 15.—North of the Somme the French last night captured a series of German trenches and advanced as far as the village of Rancourt, the war office announced today. On the Verdun front two German attacks were repulsed.

The statement follows:

"North of the Somme: At the close of yesterday evening our troops in an attack, carried out with dash, took by assault a group of German trenches south of Rancourt and pushed forward parties to the edge of the village. In the night the Germans renewed their attack in the region east of Clery. All their efforts were defeated with sanguinary losses. Especially in an attack made near the southern extremity of Hill 76 the enemy sustained heavy losses.

"South of the Somme we easily repulsed a grenade attack northeast of Berny-en-Santerre.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne a surprise attack was delivered against the enemy's trenches in the region of Autreches, enabling us to inflict losses on the Germans and take some prisoners.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) the enemy attempted twice to attack our lines west of the Fort Vaux road. Our machine gun fire drove him back to his trenches. The night was calm everywhere else."

GERMAN THIRD LINE BROKEN BY BRITISH ON SOMME FRONT

London, September 15.—The greater part of the Bouleaux wood, High wood and the towns of Flers, Martinpuich and Courcelette have been taken by the British, who also have captured all the high ground between Combles and the Pozieres-Bapaume road, according to tonight's official communication.

More than 2,300 prisoners were captured in the drive.

The statement says:

"Today's fighting, which has been severe, resulted in our capture of virtually all the high ground between Combles and the Pozieres-Bapaume road.

"Most of the Bouleaux wood, Flers, High wood, Marlinpuich and Courcelette have fallen into our hands. The enemy fought stubbornly to retain his ground.

"Over 2,300 prisoners already have been passed back, including 65 officers, six of them being battalion commanders.

"Our air service today maintained a constant successful co-operation with our artillery and infantry. Frequent accurate reports have been furnished of the course of the battle. Hostile artillery and infantry have been effectually gauged by our aeroplanes with machine gun fire. Many bombing attacks were carried out against hostile aerodromes, and railway stations, in the course of which troop trains were hit and transport and railway sidings were attacked with machine gun fire.

"Another German kite balloon was brought down. The total number of hostile aeroplanes destroyed today was thirteen. Nine others were driven down in a damaged condition. Four of our machines are missing."

Preceding this morning's extensive offensive movement the British last night drove forward, southeast of Thiepval, and captured about 1,000 yards of German trenches, including a strongly fortified position.

The statement follows:

"Last night enemy trenches southeast of Thiepval on a front of about 1,000 yards, including the strongly defended locality known as the "Wunder Werk,' were captured by our troops.

"This morning we attacked the enemy on a front extending from Bouleaux wood to north of the Albert-Bapaume road, a distance of about six miles. Considerable successes already have been obtained. Our troops have advanced some 2,000 to 3,000 yards at various places and the attack is progressing satisfactorily.

"A large number of prisoners has been taken.

"In this attack we employed for the first time a new type of heavy armored car, which proved of considerable utility.

"Much aerial fighting has taken place. Four hostile machines were brought down in flames and at least four others were driven down damaged. One hostile kite balloon was brought down last night.

"Our aeroplanes co-operated with the advance of our infantry from a low altitude, firing on the enemy on the ground.

"Bombs were successfully dropped on three headquarters of the enemy. The railway station at Bapaume was also successfully bombed, much railway stock being damaged and one train destroyed."

THIRD LINE SMASHED.

London, September 15.—The British in their offensive along the Somme have broken the German third line of defense and have taken the village of Flers, 2 miles north of Ginchy, according to reports received by Reuter's Telegram company today. British forces are also reported to have gained the outskirts of Martinpuich, a mile and a half east of Pozieres, the reports add.

The dispatch dated at the British front in France says:

"Today our troops in a great assault have broken through the enemy's third line of defense. It is reported that Flers is in our hands, and that our infantry is advancing further in the direction of Morval (about 2 miles east of Ginchy).

"On our left we are at the moment in the outskirts of Martinpuich, and to the right we have moved forward along the whole line, encircling High wood and occupying the main part of Bouleaux wood.

"Our men are filled with the spirit of victory and in several parts of the line the enemy is fleeing back to the next line of defense.

"Prisoners are coming in fast. About 500 are already in cages and others are being brought down from the battlefield."

ARMORED CAR USED BY BRITISH.

British Front in France, September 15.—(Via London.)—This morning at dawn the British made the most powerful general attack, supported by the heaviest volume of shell fire, since that of July 1, when the grand offensive began. The attacking front extends over six miles, from the region of Theipval to the junction with the French army on the right, of practically the entire line of the British advance of the last ten weeks.

Having gained the whole ridge from the east of Thiepval through Ginchy, and all the old German second line fortifications, the British made their next step, a broad stride down the hill against the newly constructed German third line. As the ceaseless British artillery fire had not permitted them to dig elaborate dug-outs and other defenses, the Germans became more dependent on their artillery for defense. They have in front of the British, from Grandcourt to Ginchy, 1,000 guns, or 150 to the mile. Thus today still another record has been made in the volume of projectiles thrown by either side.

Aside from their increased artillery fire, the British brought into action for the first time today a new type of armored car, capable, because of its powerful traction, of crossing trenches and shell craters. As it moved along in support of the infantry charges, they cheered it, even in the midst of shell fire. There has been nothing more wonderful even in this war than the spectacle of its advance toward the German line. It seems to have played an important part in the sweep forward which at the present writing, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, has gained the village of Flers, brought the British to the edge of Martinpuich and put the bloody shambles of High wood and Devil's wood, for which two most determined enemies made the hardest struggle in the history of the British army, well behind the advancing ranks of khaki.

The British also are close to the village of Courcelette. They have taken "Wunder Work" redoubt, in the Thiepval region, which belonged to the old first line fortifications. The Germans had aimed to make it impenetrable.

East of Devil's wood the Germans, in a strong redoubt, continue to make desperate resistance.

The French also are attacking. The thunder of artillery and the struggle of infantry rages from Thiepval to the Somme.

ATTACKS REPULSED, GERMANS REPORT.

Berlin, September 15.—(Via London.) The official account of fighting of the Franco-Belgian front of today reports the repulse of allied attacks in the Somme region, where violent fighting continues.

The statement says:

"Army group of Prince Rupprecht: Artillery duels continue with the same violence between the Ancre and the Somme. An attempt by considerable British forces to capture by an encircling movement our salient line south of Thiepval met with failure.

"Strong and bravely conducted French infantry attacks, prepared for by exceedingly persevering fire, and which were intended as an effort to break through our lines between Rancourt and the Somme, also failed with very heavy and sanguinary losses. Le Priez farm, west of Rancourt, has been captured by the enemy.

"West of Belloy and south of Soyecourt partial attacks were repulsed.

"In successful aerial engagements Captain Boelke and Lieutenant Wingens brought down two enemy aeroplanes each.

(The official German statement of September 10 said Captain Boelke had brought down his twenty-second aeroplane.)

"Army group of German crown prince: Subsequently to the actions reported on Wednesday, parts of our foremost lines west of the Souville salient were lost. After bitter fighting which continued throughout the night, the enemy was ejected again. In the evening a strong French attack before our Thiaumont-Fleury front broke down completely."

HEAVY FIGHTING IN MESOPOTAMIA.

London, September 15.—Renewal of heavy fighting in Mesopotamia, with the British on the offensive, is reported in a delayed official statement issued at Constantinople on September 9. The British are said to have lost 2,000 men in one engagement.

Following is the delayed Turkish official statement received by way of Berlin, dated September 9:

"In the Euphrates sector the enemy attempted a surprise attack. His effort was frustrated and he was forced to flee.

"In the Tigris sector we carried out heavy attacks successfully. Two enemy attempted surprise attacks in the night were repulsed by our counter movement, sustaining heavy losses. While storming a height of the enemy lost 2,000 men.

"According to the latest news (from Rumania) our troops, supported by Germans and Bulgarians, repulsed strong forces of Russians and Rumanians in northern Dobrudja."

AUSTRIANS SUFFER BLOODY DEFEAT IN CARPATHIANS

London, September 15.—According to advices from a Swiss source the Austrians have suffered another sanguinary defeat west of Kapul mountain in the Carpathians, says a wireless dispatch from Rome today.

BUCHAREST STATEMENT.

Bucharest, September 15.—(Via London.)—An official communication dealing with September 14 operations on the north and northwestern fronts, says:

"At Meagra, in the Maros valley, we captured a depot of munitions and equipments. Our troops advanced in the middle region of the Olt (Aluta) river and occupied the positions of Barsolt, Bogata and Olterna. South of Sibia we captured an armored train.

"In Dobrudja there is violent fighting on the whole front.

"The German press circulates statements accusing the Rumanian troops operating in Dobrudja with acts of cruelty against the Bulgarian population. It is hardly necessary to deny these false assertions, which are intended to divert attention from the atrocities the Bulgarians have committed on wounded prisoners and Rumanian inhabitants elsewhere. The Bulgarian army is no stranger to the reputation gained by the violence it committed against neighboring Balkan states without exception during recent wars."

RUSSIANS RETIRING.

Bucharest, September 15.—(Via Amsterdam to London.)—The Russian and Rumanian troops in the Dobrudja region of Rumania are in retirement northward, according to the official communication issued today.

NO CHANGE, RUSSIANS SAY.

Petrograd, September 15.—(Via London.)—Unchanged conditions along the front in Russia and Galicia are reported in today's war office statement. Cold weather is setting in in parts of Turkish Armenia, where isolated engagements with Kurdish forces have occurred, says the statement, which follows:

"Western front: The situation is unchanged.

"Caucasus front: Increased activity by hostile Kurds in the region southwest of Kighi continues. In the direction of Bitlis our advanced guards drove the Kurds out of Tchukhur and Norshen (15 miles north of Bitlis), and pressed them back to Tchavkis.

"Frosts are being experienced in positions in the Priamur and Glumichkhan sectors, and more than seventy centimeters of snow has fallen in some places."

SUCCESSES CLAIMED FOR TEUTON ALLIES.

Berlin, September 15.—(Via London.) Successful operations by the Teutonic allies on the Russian and Rumanian fronts are recorded in today's official announcement, which follows:

"Army group of Prince Leopold of Bavaria: There is nothing to report.

"Army group of Archduke Charles Francis: In the Marajowka sector and east thereof operations by German and Turkish detachments were successful.

"In the Carpathians Russian troops which penetrated our line on the western slope of the Einbrosiawawk were driven out again. A section of our position west of Kapul which fell into the hands of the enemy in the fighting reported yesterday has been recaptured.

"In Transylvania German and Austro-Hungarian troops engaged in favorable fighting southwest of Hoetzing and Hatzeg."

ITALIANS WINNING.

Rome, September 15.—(Via London.) Capture by the Italians of Austrian positions on the Isonzo front and in the Trentino near Monte Cauriel was announced officially today. The statement follows:

"Between the heads of the Vane and Fiemme valleys our attacks were directed toward extending possession of the crest northeast of Monte Cauriel. We are proceeding satisfactorily, notwithstanding the difficulty of the ground and the stubborn resistance of the enemy.

"Yesterday the enemy's artillery kept under violent fire without result the positions we captured recently on Monte Lagazuoi and in the Travenanzes and Boite valleys.

"On the lower Isonzo yesterday our heavy artillery and heavy trench mortar batteries kept up an intense fire against the enemy's lines east of Gorizia and on the Carso. While torrential rains were falling in the afternoon we stormed positions east of Vallone, taking some lines of entrenchments. We captured 2,117 prisoners, including 71 officers and some machine guns and trench mortars yesterday.

"One of our aeroplane squadrons in an aerial fight succeeded in bringing down two enemy aeroplanes off Panzano."

AUSTRIAN STATEMENT.

Vienna, September 15.—(Via London.) The official statement issued from Austro-Hungarian headquarters today reads:

"Eastern theater, Rumanian front: The attack of the allied (Teutonic) troops in the district to the southeast of Hatzeg is progressing favorably. To the east of Fagaras (30 miles northwest of Kronstadt) Rumanians have commenced an advance across the Aluta river.

"Front of Archduke Charles: In the Bibo valley the fighting terminated in our favor. Apart from successful patrol operations on our part, nothing else occurred.

"Front of Prince Leopold of Bavaria: Between the Zlota Lipa river and the Kovel-Rovno railway there was increased artillery activity.

"Italian theater: The Italians have opened a new offensive. For the time being their efforts are being directed chiefly against the Carso plateau. Yesterday the artillery and mine fire increased there with the greatest violence. In the afternoon strong enemy infantry forces in dense formation advanced to the attack along the whole front between the Wippach river and the sea. Fierce fighting developed. Although the enemy at first penetrated parts of our first line trenches and maintaining himself here and there, his first assault, nevertheless, is looked on as a failure.

"North of the Wippach as far as the region of Plava artillery fire was lively, but no infantry engagements worth mentioning developed.

"On the Plenne valley front artillery duels continue.

"Several attacks delivered by Italian detachments, about a battalion strong, against Bassane ridge were repulsed. During one of these attacks to the west of Cima di Valmaggiore our troops made prisoners of sixty Alpine soldiers.

"Southeastern theater: The situation is unchanged.

"Naval events: On the night of the 13th-14th of September one of our hydro-aeroplane squadrons successfully bombarded military positions at Grado and a second squadron railway establishments and other military objectives at San Giorgio di Nogaro. Several direct hits were made and great fires were observed. Notwithstanding a violent bombardment all the aeroplanes returned safely."

NEPHEW OF THE KAISER KILLED IN THE BALKANS

Berlin, September 15.—(Via London.) Prince Frederick William of Hesse has been killed at Cara Orman, it was officially announced by the war office today in its report on operations on the Balkan front.

Prince Frederick William of Hesse was a nephew of Emperor William. He was born in 1893 at Frankfort-on-the-Main, the eldest son of Prince Frederick Charles of Hesse and Princess Margaret, sister of the German emperor. He was reported wounded in the fighting in France in September, 1914.

Prince Frederick William is the second prince of the house of Hesse to be killed, Prince Maximilien falling on a French battlefield in October, 1914. Seven other German princes have been killed, two of Saxe-Meiningen, three of Lippe, one of Reuss, and one of Waldeck.

SWEDEN IN QUARREL WITH ENTENTE ALLIES

Paris, September 15.—The French government has instructed the minister at Stockholm to join with the other entente ministers in presenting a friendly but firm note to Sweden in regard to its policy of neutrality.

The note takes issue with the position of Sweden in distinguishing between submarines for war and those for commerce, which the French government affirms has "an effect contrary to neutrality, since the Swedish naval forces would hesitate to attack a German submarine in Swedish waters under the pretext that it might be a commercial submarine, whereas there would be no similar hesitation in dealing with a submarine of the allies because they have no commercial submarines."

The note deals with a number of questions relative to navigation, and concludes:

"The attitude adopted by the Swedish government is at variance in obvious respects with an attitude which is compatible with the duties of a loyal and impartial neutral."

Sweden Makes Reply.

London, September 15.—The Swedish government's reply to the representations of the entente ministers concerning measures to preserve the neutrality of Swedish territorial waters has been published in Stockholm, says a Reuter dispatch from that place. The reply, the dispatch says, disputes in a most formal manner, the suggestion that there is any difference in the treatment accorded either to one or the other of the belligerent camps, which could be regarded as incompatible with the duties of a loyal and impartial neutrality.

The Swedish reply says:

The government of the king cannot enter into any discussion on the sincerity and impartiality of its neutrality, which have been abundantly demonstrated throughout the whole duration of the present war. It would, however, observe that an allegation of this character is not well founded when based only on isolated and partly investigated facts.

The reply refers further to the treaties which the entente allies in their representation aduce as governing the points in dispute. The Swedish government, the dispatch says, declares itself ready to discuss the interpretation of these treaties, but holds that it has the right to choose between several lawful methods for the maintenance of Sweden's rights and the fulfillment of her obligations.

Regarding submarines, the reply contends that all are treated as war submarines until their employment for commercial purposes is clearly established by evident facts.

STANDARD OIL STEAMER SUNK BY SUBMARINE

London, September 15.—The crew of the Dutch steamer Antwerpen which was reported sunk on September 15, has been landed at Plymouth, according to a dispatch to Lloyds.

The Antwerpen was a vessel of 11,300 tons and belonged to the Standard Oil company. She was built at Newport News and was on her maiden voyage to London from Bayonne, N. J.

London, September 15.—The captain and crew of the British steamer Counsellor have been landed here. They say the steamer foundered. One member of the crew is an American.

The Counsellor was a vessel of 3,176 tons. She sailed from Colon for Liverpool on August 27 on her way home from Vancouver via San Francisco. A London dispatch last night said the vessel had been sunk, but did not explain the cause.

London, September 15.—The Norwegian steamer Ethel, of 1,153 tons gross, has been sunk, a Lloyds announcement today states.

London, September 15.—The Danish steamer Hans Tavscen, of 1,709 tons gross, has been sunk, according to a Lloyd's dispatch today from Saint Male, Normandy. The crew was landed.

Before the war there were 900,000 women in France employed as domestics.

GREEK ARMY CORPS GOING TO GERMANY

Troops Stationed at Kavala to Be Transported—Terrible Conditions in Kavala.

Berlin, September 15.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—The Vossische Zeitung says that the officers of the fourth Greek army corps which is to be transported from Kavala, Greece, to Germany, will be accompanied by their families, thus preventing the starving of women and children by the entente.

Official announcement was made in Berlin yesterday of the plan to transport to Germany Greek troops stationed at Kavala at the time of the Bulgarian occupation of eastern Macedonia.

The announcement said the troops, cut off from communication with Athens by the entente forces, were suffering from disease and lack of food and that they would be taken to Germany as neutrals. Athens dispatches said 1,500 Greek soldiers had been removed from Kavala on warships of the allies.

London, September 15.—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says that all the German newspapers welcome the fourth Greek army corps as guests and praise the loyalty of the men to King Constantine. In their action is seen a desire on that part of the Greek people to remain neutral.

Terrible Conditions in Kavala.

Athens, September 15.—(Via London.) The Margarete, the boat in which Baron von Schenk, head of the German propaganda in Greece, was sent to Kavala to be turned over to the Bulgarians, arrived with 1,000 refugees who were in the most pitiable condition. They had been without food since Sunday and were packed in the ship like sardines. The refugees said that a German aeroplane had dropped three bombs as the boat was leaving Kavala, which came within inches of striking the ship.

An eyewitness who described the entry of the Bulgarians into Kavala on Monday, said that three Greek regiments which had remained in the town were given until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning to surrender as prisoners of war. At the expiration of this ultimatum they gave up their arms after a slight resistance and were taken up country.

The same man said that 3,000 Greek troops had been camped on Thasos island in two camps. One camp offered to join the allies and the men were shipped to Saloniki. The second contingent refused to desert the Greek army and, the refugees said, the French proposed to return them to Kavala.

Terrible conditions were described on the island of Thasos, where 7,000 refugees had fled from the invaders in rowboats and sailboats. They lacked every necessity of life and great numbers of women and children were camped out in the open without food.

The refugees said that indescribable disorder reigned in Kavala, where bandits were looting the houses and all the Greeks who could were taking refuge in flight. They said only three or four Americans remained in the town, the remainder of the colony having fled to Thasos.

Greeks Are Resentful.

Athens, September 14.—(Via London, September 15. Delayed.)—The news of the recent events at Kavala has just been permitted to be printed here and created the most profound sentiment. The Hestia, organ of former Premier Venizelos, prints a sensational story to the effect that the ministry of Premier Zaimis asked the intervention of Germany to prevent the Bulgarian occupation of Kavala, in conformance with a written pledge of the Germans and Bulgarians that Kavala, Drama and Seres would not be occupied. The newspaper alleges that Count von Mirbach-Harff, Germany's special plenipotentiary, replied that it was impossible to do anything, as the Bulgars were determined to treat the Greeks as undeclared enemies.

The German and Bulgarian legations deny this story but seemingly it is generally believed, and is adding fuel to the national feeling.

There is considerable opposition developing to the proposed Dimitracopulos ministry, and it is not unlikely that King Constantine may again try to change the decision of M. Zaimis to resign the premiership.

STEVE YERKES DRAFTED BY CLEVELAND

----EDITED BY----
DICK JEMISON

Cleveland Drafts Yerkes; Snyder Is Also Drafted But This Will Not Stick

By Dick Jemison.

As was anticipated and predicted in The Constitution, Steve Yerkes was the Cracker to be lost via the draft route, the Cleveland Indians putting in the draft for the Cracker second-sacker.

Steve ought to have been drafted. He was not only the pick of the locals, but the pick of the league as well. He played better ball than any infielder in the entire league during the season and hit third in the list of players.

Add to this the fact that Yerkes is an experienced ball player, one who has seen plenty of service under the big tent, and that he has not slowed up as much as his relegation to the minors would have indicated, and the selection was the logical one.

Yerkes never ought to have left the big tent. He was a better ball player than fourteen of the sixteen second basemen retained in the league. The only two we bar is Jack Barry and Eddie Collins, and he can and has hit better than either of them this year.

Cleveland is fortunate in landing Yerkes. It so happened that they had first choice on Atlanta players. This made the selection easy for Cleveland.

The Snyder Case.

Catcher Snyder was drafted from the Macon club by the Brooklyn Nationals, but this draft will not stick, as Snyder is the property of the Atlanta team, and only one player can be drafted from a class A club.

Snyder reported to the Crackers August 24, two days prior to the time limit for selling players, and, according to baseball rules, if a player plays one game with the team purchasing him from a lower league he is then the property of the team of higher classification.

Under this ruling Snyder is, therefore, the property of the Crackers, as he played several games with the locals and the Brooklyn draft will be thrown out.

No major league club elected to draft any one from Little Rock, Mobile or Nashville. The Boston Nationals was the only team that cared to draft from New Orleans, and they designated Massey, returned to the Pels by Mobile.

Cleveland had first crack at the locals, with the Cubs second and the Braves third, so in the event Cleveland does not want Yerkes, the Cubs or Braves can put in a claim for him and land him.

Other Southern Leaguers.

Cleveland also had first crack at the Chattanooga team, and they selected the best player on that team also, Joe Harris. With Yerkes at second, Harris at first, Chapman at short and Turner at third, the Indians will have an infield next season that will make every team in the American league hustle to beat.

The Chicago Nationals had first crack at the Birmingham Barons, with the Boston Nationals second and the Philadelphia Americans third. The Cubs selected Meusel, the hard-hitting outfielder, from the Barons.

The Yankees had first crack at the Memphis Chicks, the Tigers second and the Browns third. The Yanks picked Pitcher Monroe from the Chicks.

Seventy-Four Drafts.

Cincinati, September 15.——Seventy-four minor league players were drafted by the major leagues at the meeting of the National Baseball commission and representatives of every major league club here today.

The American league obtained 47 and the National 27. These figures do not signify that the American league was proportionately more lucky in the draw than the National, but that President Johnson's organization had in a large majority of the drafts, the Philadelphia Americans alone making an effort to obtain 26 youngsters.

Connie Mack obtained 12. He was surprised, however, by the Chicago Americans, who obtained 14. Next in point of number came the Cleveland Americans and the Chicago Nationals, with 7 each, while the New York Americans corralled five, Cincinnati, Brooklyn and the St. Louis Americans each obtained four, while Detroit, Boston Nationals and Pittsburg came away with three each. The New York Nationals, St. Louis Nationals, Philadelphia Nationals and Washington each received two, while the Boston Americans retired at the end of the draw without a single player.

That the minor league field has been picked over rather thoroughly for good material through the process of purchase was indicated by the fact that in no individual case was there an exceptionally keen competition, the majority of the players being drafted by a single club. The Cleveland club originally drafted Haas, of Wilkes-Barre, but waived their draft on him, and he was obtained by the Chicago Americans. The same thing happened to McTigue, of Toronto, who was originally drafted by the New York Nationals, but went to the Chicago Nationals when New York cancelled their draft.

At the beginning of the meeting it was announced that the major league clubs would be permitted to take five days in which to select their players from the Class A and Class AA clubs. Directly after the drawing of lots, however, this decision was changed and a ruling was made that the selections would have to be made today. This rule was complied with, with five exceptions, Cleveland being undecided whom they will take from Indianapolis and Baltimore; Chicago Americans were undecided relative to Montreal and Richmond, Va., and Washington announced that they would choose later from St. Paul.

When the official list was compiled late today it was discovered that the Philadelphia Americans had obtained Schauer from Louisville; that the Cleveland club obtained Dickerson from Dothan, and that Flannigan had gone to the Chicago Nationals from Muscatine, Iowa.

Every major league team was represented at the meeting, while numerous minor league magnates also were there.

After the open meeting in which the drafts were drawn, the national commission went into executive session to take up the proposition to allow the leading clubs in both major leagues to printtheir reserved seat tickets for the next world's series.

The commission decided to leave the world series tickets proposition to Chairman Herrmann. If, on September 21, Chairman Herrmann believes it would be wise to have the tickets printed in order to save time, he was given the power to notify the management of the three teams who are then leading in the two races, the National and American leagues, that they were privileged to have the tickets printed. The commission took up several other minor questions, but announced on adjourning sine die that no decisions had been reached.

TRAVERS SHOWS FORM IN FOUR-BALL MATCH

New York, September 15.—Jerome D. Travers, formerly open and amateur golf champion, received many congratulations today upon the return to form shown in a four-ball match at the Wykagy club, New Rochelle, yesterday, when the Montclair man eclipsed Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr., with a score of 72 as compared to the present champion's 75. Travers was at his best and easily the star of the match. His partner was T. V. Bermingham, while Evans was paired with John G. Anderson. Travers and Bermingham won the match, two up and one to play.

THE MIRACLE MAN.

George Stallings Will Be 47 Sunday.

George Tweety Stallings, the "Miracle Man" of 1914, will be forty-seven tomorrow, according to the dope book. The leader of the Braves is a native of Georgia and he now owns a plantation several square miles in extent near Haddock. He is the lord of the manor, which includes villages, churches, stores and schools within its far-flung boundary lines, as a highbrow scribe would put it. Stallings got his start as a manager in 1893, when he piloted the Augusta, Ga., club to a pennant, having previously toiled as a backstop in cities on both coasts. He made his first big splash as a club leader in Buffalo, achieving a reputation with the Bisons that got him a chance in the big show, first with the Yankees and then with the Braves. Besides being an able manager, Stallings is a fine umpire, and often shows up the league's official arbiters by telling them where they were wrong.

CITY GOLF TITLE PLAY CONTINUES

Players Will Complete the Qualifying Round Over the Druid Hills Golf Club Course Today.

The qualifying round in the third annual invitation golf tournament for the championship of Atlanta over the course of the Druid Hills Golf club will be completed with today's play.

One of the largest fields that has ever entered a golf tourney in Atlanta is participating and several flights will be filled.

Players qualify from scratch and the match play in the first flight will also be from scratch. Club handicaps apply in the other flights.

George W. Adair is the present title holder. He defeated W. F. Spalding for the title in 1914 and retained it last season when he defeated his son, Perry. He will be an entrant in this year's event and with his son Perry and little Bob Jones, will rule as the favorite.

COURTESIES OF OTHER COURSES TO D. H. G. C.

The courtesies of the Atlanta Athletic club and Capital City Country club courses are extended to the members of the Druid Hills Golf club all during the city championship tournament which is being played over the latter course.

E. H. Inman, of the Capital City Country club, and Dr. J. D. Eby, of the Atlanta Athletic club, made this announcement last night on behalf of the golf committees of the two clubs.

The Druid Hills course is certain to be crowded today with players qualifying for the tournament, and those who do not care to qualify or who have already done so, can get in their usual Saturday game at either of the other clubs.

This arrangement will continue throughout the tournament.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Dodgers 8, Pirates 1.

Brooklyn, N. Y., September 15.—Brooklyn won a race against an imminent rain today, and, by beating Pittsburg, 8 to 1 in five innings, increased their lead over Philadelphia to two full games. Eight hits, including a home run drive by Wheat, with the bases full, netted the Superbas eight runs in the second inning. It was the 28th straight game in which Wheat had made one or more hits.

Marquard was in great form after the first inning. Mowery had just filed to Schulte for the second out in the fifth inning when the rain fell in torrents, and after a wait of thirty minutes, Umpire O'Day called the game because of wet grounds.

Chicago, September 15.—A wild pitch by Thomas gave Chicago the final game of the year with Washington, 3 to 2. Thomas replaced Shaw in the ninth inning, after Terry had doubled down the third-base line. Lapp sacrificed Terry to third and when Thomas made the wild pitch Terry scored the winning run.

Cicotte allowed Washington but three scattered hits, his error paved the way for Washington's first run, while Morgan's triple and Henry's sacrifice gave them the other.

Detroit, September 15.—Detroit took the final game with New York 4 to 2. Bush's hitting was the most conspicuous factor in the Tiger victory. Batters of both sides, however, failed constantly to hit when men were waiting to score. Mogridge pitched a fairly good game, but Detroit hit often enough to beat him.

Veteran Schulte Is 34.

Frank Schulte, the Cub veteran who is now cavorting in a Pirate uniform when Pilot Callahan deems it seemly to permit him to cavort, will be thirty-four years old tomorrow. Although the old-timer showed more batting class this year than he has in several seasons, Tinker traded him to Pittsburg, along with Bill Fischer, for Art Wilson. At this distance it looks like Tinker got the little end of the deal, for Schulte, although in the sere and yellow leaf, is still a mighty handy man to have about a ball club.

Schulte has been landing on the pellet with greater frequency this year than in any season since 1911, when he batted an even .300. Since then he has fallen far under that magic mark, with an average of .249 in 1915 and .241 in 1914. Old Frank was discovered in Syracuse in 1904, when the late Frank Selee grabbed him for the Cubs. He had become a landmark in the Windy City when Joe Tinker up an' swapped him to the Pirates. Schulte's native town is Cohocton, N. Y., but he now lives in Georgia.

Harry Harper Out of Game.

Chicago, September 15.—Clark Griffith, manager of the Washington Americans, announced tonight before leaving Chicago that Harry Harper, his star left-handed twirler, would not pitch again this season, on account of a sore arm. Griffith said he expected Harper to be one of the best left-handed pitchers in the league next season.

Mrs. Newell Wins.

French Lick, Ind., September 15.—Mrs. A. B. Newell, representing the Inverness club, of Toledo, won the woman's championship tournament of the Central Golf association here this afternoon, defeating Mrs. E. D. Mason, of Louisville. Mrs. Newell proved superior in driving, while the work of Mrs. Mason on the green was excellent.

SUNDAY SPORTING FEATURES

In addition to covering the general world of sport in its usual complete way, The Constitution will present to its readers Sunday two distinct features, compiled by the sporting editor, that should be an instant hit.

Football Schedule.

The complete football schedule of all the southern teams from Maryland to Texas will be presented in date order from September 23 through December 9, appearing just as they will appear during the season.

In arranging the schedule in this form The Constitution presents to its readers a ready reference for the entire season, a schedule that can be clipped and kept for use during the entire campaign.

Final Averages.

The final averages of the Southern league, embracing every branch of figures that could be compiled, will be presented in a solid page of figures, a stupendous task to compile, but one that should please every baseball lover. Figures that have heretofore not been printed this season will be included in these figures.

The departments to be covered will be individual batting and fielding, team batting and fielding, team and individual slugging, individual base stealing, sacrifice hitting, team miscellaneous figures and pitching.

Don't miss Sunday's Constitution.

WILLIAMS IS INVITED TO SPEAK IN ATLANTA

Senator Hoke Smith Takes Rap at Local Bankers for Favoring Hughes.

John Sharpe Williams, comptroller of the currency, was invited last night by President Charles J. Haden, of the Woodrow Wilson Fulton County club, to address a Wilson rally at the auditorium the latter half of this month.

This action was taken by President Haden following a resolution introduced by H. H. Cabaniss at a meeting of the club at the Piedmont hotel Friday afternoon.

Senator Hoke Smith addressed the Wilson club. He praised the democratic administration. Referring to Charles E. Hughes, republican candidate for president, Senator Smith declared that if elected "Hughes would make the most partisan president in office during the past 25 years."

"The reserve bank will be taken away from the south, and the banking of the nation centralized in one bank," stated the senator.

Senator Smith also flayed local bankers and financiers for favoring Hughes because of his opposition to the reserve bank system, which, the senator pointed out, has stabilized credits and cut large profits for the bank stockholders.

At the Auditorium rally money will be raised with which to aid the national democratic committee to wage its campaign for President Wilson in doubtful states.

Senator Smith expressed as his belief that President Wilson would carry New York state.

Those present at the meeting were: J. C. Haden, president; Judge George Hillyer, vice president; S. A. Martin, secretary; L. W. Thomas, treasurer; Walter P. Andrews and Shelby Smith, executive committeemen, and Senator Hoke Smith, Reuben Arnold, Postmaster Bolling Jones, Walker Dunson, Walter R. Daley, H. H. Cabaniss, Aldine Chambers, Judge Spencer R. Atkinson.

STRAWBERRY INDUSTRY MENACED IN FLORIDA

Tallahassee, Fla., September 15.—Declaring that unless there is an improvement in transportation facilities from south Florida to the principal market centers, the strawberry industry of this state will be ruined, fifty growers are today in Tallahassee making an appeal to the interstate commerce commission through Examiner Fearnside. The hearing is for the purpose of taking testimony of representative growers to be forwarded to Washington. No relief is expected this season, but they hope to see improved transportation next year. They assert that it takes from five to eleven days for shipments to reach their destination now and that as a result the berries are frequently spoiled by that time.

FOURTEEN RECRUITS JOIN U. S. NAVY HERE

It was reported yesterday at the navy recruiting headquarters that fourteen new men had successfully passed the physical examination and been mustered into the service. The new recruits left the city in the afternoon on the Seaboard for their respective posts.

At the army station it was hoped that current reports of an expected trip to the border would stimulate recruiting in the next few days.

AUTO MEN ARE GUESTS OF SOUTHERN RURALIST

Twenty-four factory representatives of automobiles and automobile tire companies were the guests Friday night at a dinner given by The Southern Ruralist at the Capital City club. F. J. Merriam, editor of The Southern Ruralist; Dr. Horace E. Stockbridge, vice president, and L. D. Hicks, business manager, made addresses to the guests. The dinner is known as "The Southern Ruralist Round Table" and is one of a series given by the management of that publication.

W. S. HOWARD WILL BE NOMINATED TODAY

Delegates to the fifth congressional district convention will meet today at 12 o'clock in the senate chamber at the capitol to nominate William Schley Howard for a fourth term in congress. As Mr. Howard carried every county in the district, only his name will be presented and the nomination will be a unanimous one.

POLICE ARREST THIRD ALLEGED GAMBLER

Floyd Kenne, of 95 West North avenue, was arrested Friday by Detectives Gorman and Rosser, charged with being involved in the gambling case which caused the arrest of G. W. Douglas and J. C. McBride Thursday. Detectives secured a good deal of paraphernalia at the alleged scene of the gaming, in a house on Ivy street. They claim that the three men are professional gamblers. The three defendants were placed under a $500 bond each.

MERCHANT FOUND DEAD WITH THROAT SLASHED

J. W. Yates' Relatives Believe He Was Murdered Despite Verdict of Suicide.

Cordele, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—With his throat slashed and the jugular vein severed, the dead body of J. W. Yates, a storekeeper, and who lived much as a recluse, was found this morning stretched across the floor of a market operated by him.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide, but relatives of the dead man who arrived today from Experiment, Ga., have suspicions that he was murdered. J. M. Bundrick, a young man employed by Yates in a store over which he had his bedroom, discovered the body.

Mrs. Bundrick, mother of the young man, testified before the coroner's jury that Yates received two letters yesterday and these seemed to greatly depress him. The letters could no be found when a search was instituted.

AMUSEMENTS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

With Nat M. Wills, unexcelled "tramp" comedian, as headliner, the Forsyth promises for next week a Keith vaudeville bill of big features. Mr. Wills is to play here for a week while he is waiting for the New York Hippodrome's "Hip, Hip, Hooray" show, of which he is principal comedian, to begin its winter tour. Topping a splendid program this week is Beatrice Merrill's grand opera sextet. Clara Howard, singing comedienne and impersonator, is another feature. Frank Morrell, California entertainer; Willie Solar, late star of the London Hippodrome; Bertie Herron and the "Five of Clubs" in "A Pierrot's Dream," quite an unusual feature, are among other offerings.

Four Shows Today.

(At the Piedmont.)

One of the sunniest vaudeville bills ever brought to the Piedmont theater will conclude its Atlanta engagement tonight. The program has drawn large and appreciative crowds and is something certainly worth the time and the careful attention of the amusement lovers of the town. The Paris Fashion is an elaborate headline attraction and is preceded by other features of cleverness. The Melroy Sisters have won lots of laughs and the work of Halligan and Combs is good enough to keep them here a fortnight.

Bringing Up Father in Politics.

(At the Grand.)

Father in politics is coming to the Grand Opera House.

There's a good laugh coming to you at the Grand next week. Gus Hill sends "Bringing Up Father in Politics," the second in a series of George McManus' famous cartoon comedies, which are seen daily in more than five hundred newspapers throughout the United States and Canada. As the title indicates, father has gone into politics, as every man is apt to do who has an abundance of money and ample leisure, coupled with an ambitious wife. This play will make you laugh foolishly for two hours with scarcely a breathing spell. By all means go to the Grand next week and enjoy an evening's entertainment that will profit you much more from a standpoint of hilarity. Matinees will be given on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and the advance sale is now on.

"The Natural Law."

(At the Grand.)

Only two performances remain for "The Natural Law," which has been witnessed at the Grand all this week. Miss Coraline Waide, who portrays the role of Ruth Stanley in this entertaining drama, has a very pleasing personality and her portrayal of a very difficult role has met with very high praise from the patrons of the Grand this week. A bargain matinee will be given this afternoon and a record attendance is indicated.

Marguerite Clark.

(At Alamo No. 2.)

Those who failed to see dainty Marguerite Clark in her last appearance here in "Little Lady Eileen" will have another opportunity today, as the Alamo No. 2 have brought the feature back for today only. When the picture was first shown here several weeks ago it was especially well spoken of, as it proved to be as entertaining as anything that Miss Clark has so far appeared in. The scenes of the picture are laid in Ireland and are excellent examples of Irish scenes. Miss Clark takes the part of an attractive little Irish lassie and makes it one that will be long remembered among her thousands of admirers in Atlanta.

Virginia Pearson.

(At the Strand.)

Virginia Pearson, the noted Kentucky beauty and star of the silent drama, will be seen in her first vampire picture at the Strand today in "Daredevil Kate," a great Fox feature. While her part in this big production is not all vampire, it has that touch of a combination of good and bad that is inexplainable. She holds the balance and decides the issue in a fight between men of the east and west, and when least expected the good that is naturally in her predominates, and in the end she is a power for good that is astonishing. It is her ambition to play the part of the vampire of superstition—a part that is as real as life to the true believers. Tht she is perfectly fitted for just such a part is amply demonstrated in "Daredevil Kate."

Fannie Ward.

(At the Georgian.)

Fannie Ward, who created a sensation in the world of motion pictures by her performances in "The Cheat," "Tennessee Partner" and other Paramount pictures, is the central figure in "A Gutter Magdalene," which comes to the Georgian theater today. As Maida, a Salvation Army girl, Miss Ward finds redemption in her allegiance to the cause for which she works. Her path recrosses those she had known in other days. Temptation is thrown in her way again. The manner in which she successfully combats these temptations forms a very interesting story. An added feature today is Charlie Chaplin in "Charlie's Picnic."

G. H. HARRIS IS HELD ON FORGERY CHARGE

G. H. Harris, 21, of Decatur, was bound over by Recorder Johnson yesterday on a charge of forgery, his bond being fixed at $300. It seems that Harris attempted to pass a check for $5 at the Lowry National bank signed with the name of B. B. Crane. His manner aroused the suspicion of the paying teller, who caused him to be taken into custody by the police pending investigation of the matter. The check was made payable to B. F. Lee and bore an indorsement in that name.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN KILLED BY CABBAGE

Lexington, Ky., September 15.—Word was received from Lawrence county today that Mrs. James Price and four of her children died and another child is not expected to live as a result of ptomaine poisoning from eating cabbage which contained poison or was contaminated by being boiled in a vessel which generated the poison. The officials are making an investigation.

Coffee.

New York, September 15.—Rallies followed early declines in the market for coffee futures, but were succeeded by renewed weakness with prices making new low ground for the movement in the late trading.

The market opened at a decline of 4 to 7 points under a renewal of scattering liquidation and trade selling inspired by the talk of increased offerings from Brazil and the more favorable view of new crop prospects. The selling was not as active as recently, however, and rallies of several points followed on covering, with December selling up from 9.03 to 9.12, or about 5 points net higher. Later offerings increased, although there semed to be no particular change in the character of the news, and December broke to 8.99 under renewed liquidation, with the market closing at a net loss of 13 to 17 points for the day. Sales, 44,500.

Spot coffee dull; Rio sevens, 10c; Santos fours, 11¾.

Cost and freight offers were reported about unchanged, although a shade lower on some of the high grade Santos. Quotations for Santos fours ranged around 11c, London credits.

The official cable reported an unchanged market at Rio with spots 100 and futures 75 reis lower. Rio exchange ⅛d lower. Sao Paulo temperatures ranged from 57 to 95 with clearing weather. Rio cleared 6,000 and Santos 14,000 for New York. Brazilian port receipts, 68,000; Jundiahy, 48,000.

Sugar.

New York, September 15.—The local market for raw sugar was easier at a decline of ¼c from the last previous sale. The demand, however, was less active, owing to the quieter conditions in refined, and total transactions amounted to only 17,000 bags of Cubas from store at equal to 5.27 for centrifugal. There was a little further inquiry at this level at the close and the undertone was steady. Centrifugal was quoted at 5.27; molasses sugar, 4.37, and Cubas, cost and freight, 4¼c.

The demand for refined sugar was quieter with trading mostly in the way of withdrawals on old orders. Prices were unchanged, all refiners doing business on the basis of 6.40 for fine granulated.

The market for sugar futures was steadier and prices recovered about half of yesterday's loss. While there was nothing new in the situation to change sentiment, selling pressure was less in evidence, and the buying came principally from shorts and trade interests. At the close prices eased off slightly under a little profit-taking, although they still showed net gains of 5 to 8 points.

ALLIGATOR FOUND HIGH AND DRY IN KIRKWOOD YARD

Gee! Alligators!

Mrs. C. M. Kenimor, of 56 Clay street, Kirkwood, yesterday was shown an alligator eighteen inches long, which a negro boy found on her place underneath a small bridge which was placed across a semi-dry ditch behind the barn. When the boy found the young beast he became very much alarmed, and ran to his mother, who would not believe the strange story, as water was not to be found within 400 yards from the place, and alligators were supposed to be total strangers in the neighborhood.

But the boy's story was found to be the actual truth, according to Mrs. Kenimor, to whom the alligator was brought for inspection.

"What puzzles me," said Mrs. Kenimor, "is where that alligator came from. I am afraid that there are others about. I never dreamed that I was operating an alligator farm. Will you kindly tell me where it came from?"

HUGE TRADE MARKS FINANCIAL MARKET

For Ninth Consecutive Session More Than 1,000,000 Shares Change Hands. Union Pacific Makes Sensational Rise—Other Rails Score Gains.

New York, September 15.—The redeeming feature of today's market, quite apart from the absence of the wild and spectacular fluctuations of the preceding day, was the forward movement in high-grade investment paying issues, which gave the list a degree of much needed strength. Trading was once more on a gigantic scale, the total turnover of 1,270,000 shares making the ninth consecutive full session in which dealings have run into seven figures.

There were no signs at the outset of the irregularity and liquidation which caused such an abrupt crumbling of quoted values in yesterday's final hour, but from time to time the more speculative shares manifested some susceptibility to pressure. In point of fact, today's final prices of leading rails and industrials were higher than yesterday's.

Almost two score issues of various descriptions touched levels well over any of the year, and some, notably Union Pacific, which made an extreme gain of 3½ points to 146½, were at their maximum prices since the war. Other potential leaders which rose 1 to almost 3 points, included Southern Pacific, Great Northern and Northern Pacific, Atchison and New York Central.

The rise in these stocks, it was pointed out, may have been a belated recognition of their strong position as indicated by the recent report of the interstate commerce commission showing that the leading railways of the country, for the first time in their history, piled up net earnings of more than a billion dollars in the last fiscal year. Many industrials and specialties made gains of 2 to 5 points, and Driggs Seabury, one of the newly listed munitions, was conspicuous for its advance of almost 20 points to 111¾. United States Steel repeated its high record of 107, and affiliated shares, although irregular at times, were strong in the main.

Firmness was the only feature of the bond market on a moderate expansion of business. Total sales, par value, $3,170,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

SLIGHT RISE MADE IN WHEAT MARKET

Reports of Drought in Argentina Cause Unsettled Market to Make Small Gain — Export Sales Aid Rise.

Chicago, September 15.—Serious drought reports from Argentina tended today to handicap the bears in wheat. Largely in consequence the market, although unsettled at the close, was ¼ to 1¼c net higher, with December at $1.49½ to $1.49¾ and May at $1.50. Corn finished 1¼@⅜ to 1⅜c up, and oats with a gain of ⅝ to ¾@⅞c. In provisions the outcome varied from 5c decline to a rise of 27c.

It was evident at the outset that yesterday's sudden break in the price of wheat had taken place without any adequate cause, but confidence seemed to have been shaken so badly that until late in the session rallies today were not well maintained. All departments tended to establish that no Argentine wheat of any consequence was headed toward the United States, and that owing to a lack of vessels no future large shipments could be looked for. On the other hand, the bears made much of the fact that recent purchasing for the Greek government had turned out to be only half as large as had been supposed. Bulls finally appeared to have obtained a clear advantage, however, after the receipt of word that the crop situation in Argentina was critical owing to the drought. Besides, the menacing Argentine outlook, an enlargement of export sales in the United States had much to do with strengthening wheat prices here in the last hour. It was said foreigners had taken 2,000,000 bushels within 48 hours and that there were orders for 3,000,000 bushels more at prices which were only to a slight degree out of line.

Frosts last night and more predicted for tonight carried corn values upgrade. Advances were checked by knowledge that a large percentage of the crop was out of danger.

Oats derived firmness chiefly from corn and wheat. The seaboard gave notice of 400,000 bushels of oats sold for export.

Higher prices on hogs lifted provisions. Belgian relief orders tended also to make the market ascend.

New York, September 15.—The cotton market was nervous and irregular today, but rallies followed an early decline and the close was steady at a net loss of 4 to 7 points. December contracts advanced from 15.56 to 15.69 and closed at 15.64.

The market opened steady at a decline of 6 to 10 points in response to lower Liverpool cables and reports that one of the more prominent crop experts with English connections estimated this year's yield at 13,000,000 bales, excluding linters, or about a million bales above the official indication published at the end of last month. Private cables attributed the decline abroad to increased southern hedging and there was also some southern selling here, while there was evidently a disposition to take profits on long cotton for over the week-end after the sharp advances of the past few days. Selling was held in check to some extent by nervousness over lower temperatures in the southwest, although the official forecast was for warmer weather tomorrow and there were moderate rallies right after the opening. Offerings seemed to increase on early bulges, however, and the market gradually worked off until active months were about 11 to 13 points under last night's closing figures, with October selling at 15.39 and January at 15.63. At this level realizing was less in evidence and the market turned firmer in the later trading on covering and trade buying which was attributed largely to exporters. October rallied to 15.48 and January to 15.75, or back to about last night's finals, and the close was within 4 or 5 points of the best. The larger crop estimate was offset to some extent by reports that prominent London statisticians had issued a tentative estimate placing the world's probable consumption of American for this season at 15,000,000 bales, while the talk around the ring here reflected no change of sentiment as to the probable showing of the mid-September condition figures expected within a day or two.

Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands 15.60; sales, none.

New Orleans Futures Down.

New Orleans, September 15.—Cotton felt the weight of week-end liquidation today, together with some little short selling encouraged by poor cables, the appearance of large hedging operations and reports of larger offerings of spots in the western belt, as reflected by the heavy sales at such points as Dallas, which returned transactions for the day at 28,346 bales.

Around the opening there was a decline of 8 to 10 points. This was followed by a recovery to about the level of yesterday's close because of the estimate on consumption by a London authority of 15,000,000 bales. The steady tone was replaced by easiness, however, owing to the crop estimate from the same source of about 14,000,000 bales, commercial figures, and at noon the trading months were 9 to 12 points down, net. In the early afternoon the market was at its lowest, a net loss of 10 to 13 points. Toward the close it steadied, and the net change for the session was a loss of 3 to 6 points.

The cold weather in the western belt and the wet weather in the eastern belt offset the effect of poor cables to some extent, but did not have any too great influence because of the absence of actual frost, such as was predicted by the weather bureau.

UNSETTLED CONDITION MARKS COTTON WEEK

Large Rallies and Declines Occur During Week of Continued Activity.

New York, September 15.—The cotton market has shown continued activity during the past week. The decline which started from 16.47 for December contracts shortly after the publication of the end-August condition and crop figures seemed to culminate at 14.98 for that delivery on Monday.

The technical position had evidently strengthened during the progress of the selling movement while the reaction of approximately $7.50 per bale was sufficient to bring in an increased trade demand as well as realizing by recent sellers. Moreover, an impression was created around the local ring that interior holders were beginning to store cotton and the buying became active enough to cause sharp rallies during the middle of the week. December contracts, for instance, sold up to 15.78 during Thursday's trading or about $4 per bale above the low level of Monday morning.

Offerings increased as prices approached the 16-cent level, however, owing to apprehensions of freer southern selling and the market has since been nervous and unsettled, with December selling off to 15.56 during today's trading and closing tonight at 15.64.

The rally from the recent low level was promoted by the census report showing an unexpectedly heavy domestic mill consumption for August. Owing to scarcity of labor some had anticipated rather moderate returns, but the amount actually reported, 626,579 bales, including linters, broke all previous records for August and was regarded as strengthening bullish views of the season's requirements. A crop estimate of 12,690,000 bales including linters, from a New Orleans authority, was also a factor on the advance, but the feature mainly emphasized by buyers was the tendency of southern offerings to diminish rather than increase below 15 cents in the interior. Yesterday another private crop estimate was issued, placing the yield at 13,000,000 bales, excluding linters.

The appearance of low temperatures in the southwest, however, tended to emphasize the approach of the frost period, and scattering reports from the south have been more bullish than otherwise as to the progress of the crop. Private cables reported prospects for a better Manchester business, while India and domestic spinners are reported to have bought freely in the local contract market to fix prices.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, September 15.—(Special.)—The cotton market worked lower in the early trading but recovered its loss during the last half of the day. A crop estimate of thirteen million without linters by R. L. Neill was not accepted seriously by the trade, whose ideas of the crop are about two million less. Mr. Neill says that except in Alabama and South Carolina he expects the yield to be as large or larger than last year. He gives Texas 1,200,000 more than last year and Oklahoma 300,000 more.

It was rumored that simultaneously with the publication of this estimate that Neill Brothers gave a tentative estimate of consumption of fifteen million bales, but the exact meaning of the word "tentative" as it comes by cable is confusing. In their August 15 circular Neill Bros. make a fifteen million consumption estimate, provided peace comes, but naturally in the absence of peace the consumption will be less.

At any rate, the market is in no mood to pay any attention to bearish news from any source. The theory is that everything is going up—stocks, grain and cotton, and that cotton is the most neglected thus far. The tide of movement is enormous and that it finds a resting place at this level is amazing.

We feel that the willingness of the south to sell spot cotton will finally result in lower levels.

RENSKORF, LYON & CO.

New York, September 15.—(Special.)—Selling for both southern and local account was quite liberal in this market early today, which depressed prices about fifteen points. On the decline, however, a firm demand developed and the market showed a tendency to advance. Advices from the interior reports cotton to be finding ready buyers, and there is nothing indicative of weakness in any quarter. Constant selling of spots and futures keeps the market in a healthy condition and after the weight of the early movement is lifted we expect demand to force a higher level of prices.

BOND, M'ENANY & CO.

New York, September 15.—(Special.)—Our market today was without feature of interest. Fluctuations were within narrow limits and the news of the day does not warrant a strong expression.

As regarding the coming events on easy spots there appears to be a good demand from short sellers being disinclined to follow any decline, while there appears to be quite an absorption of contracts by spot interests. The trade is discussing more each day the probability of a cotton famine towards the end of the season and until we have some definite news that will affect the consumption, higher prices are inevitable. We continue to believe that it will pay our friends to use weak spots in order to make purchases, for it is our opinion the market will seek higher levels in the near future.

JOHNSTON, STORM & CO.

New York, September 15.—(Special.)—Rather larger crop views have been published today by crop estimates and merchants in the southwest. One large American house was mentioned as prominent in Liverpool, causing the decline. Wall street brokers are very bullish, advising purchases of cotton in all their circulars. Spot houses have been large sellers of contracts today against purchases in the south which have been bought by the Wall street houses. Local traders are bullish on this buying and expect the market will advance tomorrow, so that while the market closes some points lower the sentiment remains bullish.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New Orleans, September 15.—(Special.)—The weather was disappointing to the bulls and the market consequently sagged, but the spinners' taking for the week, 200,000, against 185,000 last year, makes us hesitate to express an opinion at present.

DUN'S REVIEW SHOWS GOOD BUSINESS WEEK

New York, September 15.—Dun's review tomorrow will say:

"In nearly all important industrial and mercantile lines the trend is toward a further increase in activity and is exceptionally marked in some directions. Manufacturing plants are being operated to their capacity, the shortage in the supply of labor being practically the only deterrent to additional expansion.

"The demand for fall merchandise is encouragingly brisk and the general business sentiment is optimistic. In the central states the movement of commodities continues well sustained and reflects prosperous conditions. In the south the inquiry for staple goods is increasingly active, while western commercial centers report substantial increases in business over last year. On the Pacific coast the favorable prospects in that region, together with the generally high prices for agricultural products, are indicative of still further progress. Retail trade drags at some points owing to labor controversies, but this condition is regarded as temporary and demand for fall merchandise as a whole is maintained in volume that reflects an expanding purchasing power on the part of the people generally.

"Weekly bank clearings, $4,333,897,180."

HAS SCALP TROUBLE MADE YOU BALD?

Use Cuticura and Your Hair Will Grow as Mr. Middlebrooks' Did.

"I noticed an itching sensation on my scalp and my scalp became covered with tiny red pimples. The pimples itched so badly that I could hardly rest, and I scratched them and they festered. My hair began to fall out gradually, and at times in bunches, and it became thin, lifeless, and dry until the whole top of my head was almost bald.

"I tried various remedies, but none seemed to give any relief. Then I got a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after the first application the itching sensation ceased. I bought more, and after using about three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was entirely healed, and my hair is growing nicely." (Signed) J. R. Middlebrooks, Mayfield, Ga., March 8, 1916.

In purity, delicate medication, and refreshing fragrance, Cuticura Soap and Ointment meet with the approval of the most discriminating. Cuticura Soap is ideal for every-day toilet use.

TOOK DEAD MAN TO WIFE; TOLD HER HE WAS DRUNK

Three Held in Connection With the Death of Cicero Culpepper.

Gainesville, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—At a coroner's inquest, held yesterday over the body of Cicero Culpepper, near Gillsville, I. B. Hawkins, Ernest Hawkins and Hubert Buffington were held by the jury without bond for investigation by the next grand jury.

It developed that the three men held and Culpepper, after drinking together, had started home in a buggy when a general fight started. After the fight Culpepper failed to rise from the ground, so his three companions placed him in the buggy and drove him home to his wife, telling her that he was dead drunk. This story, they claim, they believed at that time to be true.

Physicians stated at the coroner's inquest that Culpepper's neck was broken, and up on this evidence the jury held the three men who are now in jail at Gainesville.

I. B. Hawkins is a man of a little under middle age, and has a wife and several children. Ernest Hawkins is a young single man. Hubert Buffington is also a young man, a son of the tax receiver, Billy Buffington, is a graduate of the University of Georgia and very popular.

The two Hawkins are members of one of the oldest and best known families in the county and are popular in the community in which they live.

Culpepper, the dead man, leaves a wife and several children.

The tragedy is deeply deplored throughout the county and is regarded by all as the result of a drunken row, of which the defendants have only a misty recollection.

President's Campaign Plans Are Disturbed By Sister's Illness

Long Branch, N. J., September 15.—President Wilson's campaign plans were further disturbed today by the receipt of word from New London, Conn., that his sister, Mrs. Anne E. Howe, who is critically ill there, spent a restless night. It appeared probable that Mr. Wilson would cancel an engagement to go to St. Louis September 20 to speak before an underwriters' convention.

Early today the president and Mrs. Wilson made plans for going to New London immediately, but in the afternoon word was received that she was slightly better, and Mr. Wilson postponed the trip. He is holding himself in readiness to go to New London at any time.

The president saw no callers today, but divided his time between playing golf and working on correspondence. While golfing today he and Mrs. Wilson were caught in a severe rainstorm and forced to run to shelter.

Confidence of a democratic victory in Nebraska was expressed in a telegram from Senator Hitchcock received by the president today.

FURNACES TO BE BUILT TO MEET STEEL DEMAND

Birmingham, Ala., September 15.—Immediate construction at Anniston, Ala., of five electric steel furnaces at a cost of $1,000,000 by the Alabama Power company, was announced here today by James Mitchell, president of the company. The new plants are in addition to similar enterprises of the company on the Warrior river and other parts of Alabama in which $1,500,000 has been invested.

According to Mr. Mitchell the five new furnaces are being erected to take care of increased demands for steel.

PROHIBITION VICTORY IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Vancouver, B. C., September 15.—Incomplete returns today from yesterday's general election in British Columbia, show prohibition had a majority of more than 5,000 out of 25,000 votes. Woman suffrage apparently carried in every district. The cities favored prohibition by good majorities.

New French War Loan.

Paris, September 15.—The senate today, by a unanimous vote, adopted the bill authorizing the new war loan proposed by Finance Minister Ribot. The bill pased the chamber of deputies yesterday.

CARSWELL TO RECOVER, PHYSICIANS BELIEVE

Jeffersonville Man, Shot in an Election Row, Improved After Operation.

Macon, Ga., September 15.—(Special.) Attorney M. J. Carswell, of Jeffersonville, who was shot yesterday by Will F. Shannon during a dispute over the Hughes-Larsen election, was reported to be resting easily at the Macon hospital today following an operation, and it is now believed that he has a good chance to recover.

Shannon is in the Bibb county jail and will be held pending the outcome of Carswell's injuries. Asked today if he would endeavor to secure a commitment hearing at any time soon, Shannon declined to answer. He said he supposed his brother, who is a lawyer in Twiggs county, would represent him.

Shannon appeared to be deeply grieved over the tragedy and today he plainly showed the effects of a sleepless night.

Look for Labor Agents.

Macon, Ga., September 15.—(Special.) The Macon police are on the lookout for agents who are said to be engaging negro labor and shipping it to the north. The city council recently passed an ordinance requiring all such agents to pay a $1,000 license and so far no one has taken out such a license. Anyone who is found to be engaged in work of this kind will be promptly arrested.

The recent exodus of so many negroes from Macon is working a hardship on local contractors and others who employ negro labor. The contractors are aiding the police and license inspector in trying to apprehend the guilty persons.

Gang for Cafe Man.

Macon, Ga., September 15.—(Special.) Judge Guerry, in the city court of Macon, today declined to modify the sentence of eight months on the chaingang imposed on Gus Vetillard, proprietor of the Hotel Dinkler cafe, convicted of selling whisky, and ordered Vetillard to begin the serving of his sentence at once. When imposing the sentence several days ago Judge Guerry did not sign the order, but referred the defendant to a local physician for a statement as to his physical condition. The physician reported to the court today that Vetillard has no physical disability due to rheumatism, but that his lameness is due to an old injury to his foot.

Today H. Patterson, a negro Pullman porter, was convicted of violating the prohibition law and given a sentence of seven and a half months on the gang. Patterson smuggled whisky into Macon from Chattanooga and delivered it to Vetillard.

On 9-Hour Basis.

Macon, Ga., September 15.—(Special.) The order issued by the Central of Georgia railway placing all of the men in the Savannah shops on a nine-hour basis, thereby increasing the payroll in that city $900 a week, does not affect the Macon shops. The Macon shops have been working on the nine-hour basis for several weeks and are on equal footing already with the Savannah shopmen. There are 1,100 men employed in the Macon shops and the monthly payroll is about $60,000.

DEFENDER OF VERDUN HONORED BY FRANCE

Paris, September 15.—A tribute unusual for an official French communication is paid to General Nivelle, the defender of Verdun, in the Journal Officiel today. Announcement was made on Wednesday that General Nivelle had been decorated with the insignia of Grand Officer of the Legion of Honor, and in this connection the following citation is published:

"Robert Georges Nivelle, general of division, commanding an army, has for four months commanded the army that resisted victoriously the attacks of the enemy, renewed without cessation and has supported heroically the hardest trials. He has shown in this command with the most brilliant qualities of leadership and energy and force of character which have powerfully influenced the operations in progress over the entire front.

"After having checked the advance of the enemy toward his objective which had become a moral stake of the war, General Nivelle resumed the offensive, foot by foot, and by his attacks succeeded in dominating the adversary on the very ground chosen by the latter for a decisive effort."

Great Inflow of Gold.

New York, September 15.—The congestion of the local assay office, resulting from the inpouring of more than $50,000,000 in gold in ten days, has necessitated the deposit of $10,000,000 in the Philadelphia mint. The gold brought in since the movement began in the second week of May now amounts to $294,500,000, of which approximately $75,000,000 has been sent to Philadelphia.

BAIL OF $935,000 DEMANDED FOR 187 WORKERS OF WORLD

Scranton, Pa., September 15.—Bail in the aggregate sum of $935,000 was demanded of 187 Industrial Workers of the World, who were given hearings today for participation in the forbidden meeting raided in Old Forge yesterday, and which resulted in 267 arrests by Sheriff Phillips, a dozen deputies and twenty state troopers.

Each defendant was also fined $10 for disorderly conduct. None gave bonds or paid the fine and all went back to the county jail. The charges preferred against them were unlawful assembly, forcible entry, conspiracy, meeting to riot and disorderly conduct. The other prisoners, including the twenty alleged Industrial Workers of the World leaders, will be given hearings tomorrow.

The prisoners were taken in batches of about fifty each to four different ward magistrates. Officers testified to the forbidden meeting and the attendants forcing their way in against the protests of the wife of the proprietor of the hall. The defense will make no further move, counsel said, until the habeas corpus hearing tomorrow.

How to Keep Your Car Looking Fresh and New

Never use ordinary soaps and cleansing reagents for washing your car, as they will invariably destroy the gloss, cause checking of the varnish and make the car look dingy and old. Use only Magiclean automobile cleanser, specially prepared for the purpose. A handful of Magiclean, costing only a few cents, in a bucket of water, quickly cleanses and brightens, and preserves the paint, making an old car look almost as good as new. You can get Magiclean at any of the automobile supply dealers or by writing the Magiclean Company of Atlanta.—(adv.)

VOTERS GIVE TESTIMONY IN FLORIDA CONTEST

Tallahassee, Fla., September 15.—The supreme court today began the taking of testimony direct from the voters of certain precincts in Hamilton and Madison counties in an effort to clear up the allegations of fraud in recounting the votes in the contest over the gubernatorial nomination as a result of the democratic primary of June 6. Scores of voters from Madison county were on hand this morning early and others are expected this afternoon from Hamilton county. The ballot boxes of both Hamilton and Madison are expected this afternoon.

The examination of the voters themselves follows the refusal of the state canvassing board to recanvass the recounted votes, unless the vote of Madison and Hamilton counties should be thrown out, it being alleged that frauds were practiced after the first count, which gave Sidney J. Catts, of De Funiak, the nomination for governor over W. V. Knott, by 260 votes. By recounts in twenty counties Knott now claims the nomination by over 200 votes. If Madison and Hamilton counties should be thrown out by the courts, however, Catts will still retain the nomination.

GIRARD MAYOR'S CASE IS IN JURY'S HANDS

Girard, Ala., September 15.—The case against Mayor Earl Morgan, charged with perjury in connection with the liquor raids here recently, went to the jury late tonight and a verdict is expected tomorrow. The grand jury investigating conditions brought out by the liquor seizures recessed early today until next Wednesday after examining more than one hundred witnesses in two days. Nothing was learned as to the results of its labors.

Two minor cases were disposed of today, pleas of guilty being entered by two property owners charged with renting buildings to blind tiger operators. Fines of $50 were imposed.

Willcox, republican national chairman.

Mr. Willcox added that while no other dates have yet been arranged for Mr. Hughes to speak after October 1, it was certain that the candidate would not campaign further south than Maryland, and that he would not go to the states along the Mexican border.
